New principal, new school nearly ready for students

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Though Antioch Community High School District 117's second high school won't be officially open until the fall of 2004, its new name, Lakes Community High School, and new principal, Bob Crist, make it that much closer to being ready.

"I'm really delighted to be here," said Crist. "I thought it was a great opportunity to open a brand new school."

Crist's first day was July 1. Crist, a lifelong Wisconsin resident, will use the time to learn the inner workings of the district, become familiar with current staff, assist in hiring new staff and acclimate himself to the community.

"It's important to have the time to get a historical perspective of the district and to learn the culture of the area," said Crist. "You can do something one place and people will think it's great, but it may not be well-received in another. This is a school for the people who live here, so learning about the community is essential."

Crist said that both what he enjoys most and his area of particular strength is in the "face-to-face" meetings with students, their parents and staff.

"My motto is courtesy plus respect equals pride," he said. "In an open environment, no is afraid to voice an opinion and that's whether it's a staff meeting, or in a conversation with a student or parent. Inner pride will develop as a result."

Crist was born and raised in Kenosha, attended the University of Wisconsin in La Crosse for his undergraduate studies, received a masters degree from Roosevelt University and a doctorate from Nova Southeastern University in Florida. He taught physical and health education for nine years at the middle school and high school level with his last position working as superintendent of the high school in Wilmot, Wis.

He said the goal of an administrator is always to improve the education of the students who attend the school.

"I'm child centered," he said. "Sometimes people think there are tough decisions. When it comes down to what is in the best interest of the child and educational interests, the decisions become easy."

Crist said he has sought positions working with teenage students, middle school and high school aged, because of what the students bring to the school environment.

"The needs of the student are about the same, though a little more intensified at the high school level," he said. "There is nothing like the excitement of a high school theatrical play or concert, or an evening football game outside, or having the gym full of fans watching a basketball game. Such vast growth occurs between when students begin as freshman and when they graduate."

The one hardship Crist said he knows he'll face is spending the first year as principal without a student body. "The reason I made this decision was to be with staff and students, and this year I won't be," he said.

Music just a little 'taste' of what Antioch offers

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Ten musical performances make up just a small portion of what Antioch's Taste of Summer has to offer over the four-day festival beginning July 17.

American English, the popular Beatles impersonator band, has been added to the line up of last year's favorites all back by popular demand. Performances begin with Acoustic Blues on Thursday at 5 p.m. followed by Mr. Myers Caribbean Rock band at 7 p.m.

First up on Friday, The Michael Lescher Band at 4:30 with US99 and Country Roads Band following up at 8 p.m. Saturday is "jam" packed with the vocals of Danielle Stahl at 2 p.m., the Beautiful Savior Praise Band at 3 p.m., Grease at 5 p.m. and BBI at 8 p.m.

Sunday features the Lakes Area Community Band at 1 p.m. and American English at 3:30 p.m.

Last year, Barbara Porch, executive director of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, said, "With the relocation (to the William E. Brook Memorial Wetland and Entertainment Center) there was plenty of room, even though it was very full." She said it was like the area had been custom designed specifically to fit the Taste of Summer needs.

"It was roomy, and was so nice to have some greenery and not just concrete to look at," she said. "But, the important thing is that our community, and those surrounding us, were pleased with how things worked out."

In addition to the music, the Taste is known for its sidewalk sales in the downtown area that begin at 9 a.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday and at 10 a.m. on Sunday. The carnival, another staple of the festivities, opens at 3 p.m. on Thursday and Friday and at noon on Saturday and Sunday.

As all the music and dancing and other activities are bound to create an appetite, the Taste, of course, offers a variety of good food. Tasty treats from Dairy Queen, Caseperson Company, The Rib House, Golden Panda, Antioch Pizza, Famous Kal's, Charcoal Delights, Jerk Brothers Barbecue and Grande Jakes will be available to fill the empty spots.

Additionally, there will be bingo from 2-5 p.m. on Thursday and Friday and the Magic Steve Show at 1 p.m. on Saturday.

There will be signage directing Taste-goers to parking, as well as the events. Of last year's event, Porch said, "We were able to do things without infringing on the parking of the regular shops on the east side of Main Street."

Daily hours for the event are 11 a.m.-11 p.m., except Sunday when the hours will be 11 a.m.-6 p.m.

Osmond golf outing raises money for defibrillators

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

To help ensure that all groups, organizations and entities in the Antioch area who want defibrillators get them, the first annual Timothy H. Osmond Memorial Golf Outing fundraiser will be held on Sunday, July 27 at Shepherd's Crook Golf Course in Zion.

Linda Pedersen, one of the events organizers, said, "All of the proceeds will be used to purchase defibrillators. We've been asking those interested to make their requests in writing, and we will actually present some of them that evening at the dinner."

She said she knew that Grass Lake School would be getting one of the defibrillators and had already been notified. "I'm not sure who else will be getting them, though,"

she said.

Two tee times have been scheduled, one at 7:30 a.m. and the other at 1 p.m.

The cost is $150 for 18 holes of golf, a golf cart, lunch and a pork chop dinner. There will be a cash bar with dinner as well as prizes and raffles.

"The afternoon time is filling up more quickly than the morning," said Pedersen. "There is a limit of 120 (participants) for each round."

Pedersen said there would be some fun holes and activities.

She said, "Rep. Ed Sullivan (R-Mundelein) will have a 'beat the rep hole' where if he loses he pays you $5, but if he wins you pay him $5 that will go into the memorial fund."

Registration should be done by one week prior to the event. To register, call 847-838-2500.

"Tim loved golf and was very good at it," said Pedersen.

Giving, getting's all good

Sometimes being on the receiving end feels just as good as being on the giving end.

Antioch resident Mary Laschinski one the first gift basket from the monthly FridayFest competition sponsored by Antioch's department of special events.

Billie Horton, special events coordinator, said, "The prizes were so big and numerous that the basket was overflowing. We had to carry some of the items in the red wagon."

Participating merchants ponied up a retail gift valued at $25 or more, bringing the basket's value over $650. All Laschinski had to do to win was to visit all of the merchants listed and have them mark her flyer.

There are two more chances over the summer, the last Fridays of July and August, for some lucky person to win a similar basket.

OUR TOWN

Julie Murphy

"I expect we'll have a more participants the second time around," said Horton.

For those who like to be on the giving end, the Antioch Rescue Squad has begun accepting donations that will be auctioned off at the annual combined annual Antioch Lions Club chicken barbecue and Antioch Rescue Squad auction.

Rescue Squad Chief Wayne Sobczak said the group would accept anything that's auctionable.

"I see signs around for tax-deductible donations of cars and boats that benefit charities in the city," he said. "Those items can be donated to us and that will keep the benefits here in town."

Hundreds of items are typically raffled off with some being new and others either pre-owned or antique. Last year's haul was made up of antique furniture including oak tables, dressers, pickle crocks, sleds (from the turn of the last century), and clocks as well as new items like a lawn tractor, two bikes, a chain saw and an outdoor fireplace.

For more information about making a donation, call the Antioch Rescue Squad at 847-395-0302.

If you have interesting information or anecdotes to submit for "Our Town" call staff reporter Julie Murphy at 847-223-8161, ext. 600 or e-mail, moorfe@ix.netcom.com

Township fights mosquitoes with larvicidal 'dunks'

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

Lake Villa Township has made a commitment to fighting mosquitoes without the use of adulticide fogging. By the end of this month, the township will have made its second application of larvicidal "dunks"—doughnut-shaped cakes of BTI, an engineered bacteria that destroys mosquito larvae before they can hatch and reproduce.

The dunks are harmless to humans, animals, birds and fish. They also do not affect beneficial insects, such as dragonflies and mayflies. Township officials initially authorized a $2,000 expenditure to purchase the dunks, which are placed in standing water such as culverts and ditches.

"We covered everything except West Miltmore," said Township supervisor Dan Venturi. He said the town would spend another $3,000 to complete the first pass, and to allow for a second pass.

"I'd estimated we'd need about 1,500

dunks (at $1 each) to cover the township," Venturi said. "We probably need about 2,500."

In the first application, about 700 dunks were placed in Lindenhurst, 500 in Lake Villa and about 800 in the unincorporated areas, all at township expense.

According to Venturi, the township relied on public works directors in the villages as well as the township road district to determine the most effective places to hit.

"We expect to do a second application around the third week in July," Venturi said.

Mosquito breeding is most pronounced where there is standing water away from natural predators. Wetlands are not as significant a threat because of the presence of mosquito eaters such as dragonflies and frogs.

Township residents are encouraged to help control mosquitoes by emptying water from rain barrels, old tires and birdbaths. Children's wading pools should be emptied every few days. Gutters should be checked after heavy rains to be sure no debris is preventing proper drainage.

Car wash supports dance team

Given all of the thunderstorms of the past week, Saturday, July 12 will be a perfect time to get the car washed and support the Antioch Community High School Dance Team at the same time.

The team is holding the car wash at the high school, located at the northeast corner of routes 173 and 83, by the circle drive at the front entrance from 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

Proceeds from the car wash will be used to cover some or all of the costs needed for the team to attend dance camp at Northern Illinois University later this summer.

Last year, the ACHS dance team won the state championships in AAA Kick and placed third in AAA Funk. This follows a several year run of the team qualifying for state competition.

ANTIOCH

Keith A. Swanson, 39, of 41561 Sheridan Road, Zion, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on June 28 at 6:43 p.m. on Main Street at Park Terrace.

He was locked traveling 60 mph in a posted 40-mph zone. When stopped, Swanson told police his driver's license was suspended at which time the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath.

A check of Swanson's identifiers through SOS came back with information that his driver's license was revoked. A portable breath test indicated a blood alcohol concentration of .137. He failed all field sobriety tests requested.

Swanson was arrested and issued citations for speeding, DUI and driving with a revoked license. He refused further chemical testing.

Swanson was released on personal recognizance pending his Aug. 5 court date.

Warrant arrest

James B. Crago, 20, of 23507 127th Place, Trevor, Wis., was arrested on warrant on June 30 at 12:48 p.m. at 744 Main St.

Crago was riding a bicycle in the area of Main Street and Depot. When police spoke to him, Crago said he had moved back from Florida about a week ago and was looking for a job.

A routine check of his identifiers through LEADS/NCIC came back with information that he was wanted on a $5,000 warrant (10 percent applies) through the McHenry Sheriff's Office for failure to appear for driving while suspended.

Crago was arrested and then transported to the McHenry County Jail.

Nathan Y. Roed, 19, of 409 Maplewood, Antioch, was arrested on warrant on June 27 at 9:24 p.m. at North Avenue at Drom Court.

Police heard yelling in the area and saw several people walking in the area. Roed was recognized from previous contacts and was known to have outstanding warrants.

A check of his identifiers returned information that Roed numerous outstanding warrants including the following: $20,000 warrant (10 percent applies) through the Lake County Sheriff's Office for resisting/obstruction; a $5,000 warrant (10 percent applies) through the McHenry County Sheriff's Office for failure to appear for possession and consumption of alcohol by a minor; no bail, no bond through the Illinois Department of Corrections; and a warrant through the Kenosha Joint Services for operating a motor vehicle without consent.

Roed was placed in a cell to await transportation to the Lake County Jail.

Suspended driver's license

Rolando Sanchez, 27, of 2226 N. Monitor, Chicago, was arrested for driving with a suspended driver's license on June 28 at 1:35 a.m. on Route 83 at Orchard.

Sanchez was arrested and issued citations for driving with no headlights when required and driving while suspended. He was released on personal recognizance pending court.

Nostalgia auto show raises money for MADD's cause

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) was the beneficiary of more than $525 raised by Dodge of Antioch at its fifth annual Nostalgia Auto Show.

"This is the first time that we've taken a collection and donated money to a good cause from our auto show," said organizer Chuck Lehmann. "A lot of car people were pleased with what we tried to accomplish and supported the decision."

Lehmann said at the last minute, the dealership's owner, John Kaye, decided to take up the collection.

Over 100 muscle cars from the 1950s, '60s and '70s showed up for the event, 85 officially entered in the "people's choice" competition.

Mike Rice, of Genoa City, Wis., took that award with his 1970 Chevrolet Chevelle convertible. McHenry Class Car Parts sponsored the trophy.

"We had a lot of people just park and sit for a while and have a hot dog and some pop while they showed off their cars," said Lehmann. "Harold Saur came all the way from Mendota with his 1965 Plymouth Sport Fury convertible. With the sunshine, we had lots of convertibles that day."

Lehmann began the event by having a couple of enthusiasts gather and show off their cars. What started as a casual event has grown into an all-out auto show.

The dealership moves its inventory out of the front lot to make way for the specialty vehicles. All makes of cars will be on display.

"We don't just like cars, we love cars," said Andy Davis of the dealership. "Especially Chuck, he has two classics himself."

On show day, Lehmann showed up in his wife's yellow, 1970 Dodge Challenger.

To add to the enjoyment of the day, there was a disc jockey who played songs of the era, Dick Landy's '68 Hemi Dart was displayed and the Volo Auto Museum will provide the featured Mopar Car for display.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Zoo Keepers

Once again residents and workers in Antioch get a slap in the face with remarks from our aspiring-to-be-the-next-mayor Dorothy Larson like 'he is micro-managing him' and 'the monkeys are running the zoo.'

I believe Dorothy. That is his job. You see that's why he is called the mayor. Let's talk about micro-managing the hired village employees. Where were you as a board member when our last village administrator played hide the money?

Perhaps a little micro-managing would have kept the people in Antioch from having to pay that money back as a utility tax. I have known the mayor for about 30 years and I believe that he is honest and cares about the village.

I'm not thrilled with a lot of decisions that have been made like Neuman Homes, Pultie Homes, Wal-Mart, all this on a very busy two lane Route 173.

All villages have their share of problems, but when statements are made like Larson's it's a slap in the face to the people who really care what happens, both residents and township people.

Lakeland Player of the Year

Sean Walker Sr., C/P, Carmel

If there was ever a consummate catcher, Walker is it. Heading to Michigan State University in the fall, this four-year varsity starter was a multiple threat. Behind the plate, he was clocked throwing from home to second base in 1.7 seconds, which is just under the average for major league catchers. At the plate, Walker was a monster. He was among the top-5 in the area in numerous offensive categories. Some of them included batting average (.463), home runs (14), doubles (10) and total bases (113). Walker also showcased his speed, belting two triples. Had big-time game against Nazareth Academy, where he unloaded for three round-trippers in one game, one a grand slam. A major reason Carmel finished with a 27-9 overall record this spring.

Rookie of the Year

John Thornton Grant, Sr., 2B

Even though he was a senior, Thornton was in his first year playing at Grant in having transferred from Texas. The Bulldogs sure utilized this guy, with his speed and quickness at second base. At the plate, he was just as dangerous from the lead-off spot. For the season, batted .356 with eight doubles, five triples and 16 RBI. Also showed speed on the base paths, swiping 17 on the year. The Grant coaching staff admitted that Thornton was one of the fastest guys they had ever seen play in the high school ranks.

Coach of the Year

Troy Whalen Grayslake

After a successful run as coach for Grayslake Youth Baseball, Whalen made the jump to high school varsity ball. The first-year skipper didn't know what to expect, having a junior-dominated team. How did they respond to the new coach? The Rams finished 12-22, including a pair of wins in the Fox Valley Tournament. But that's not the point. The point is the program posted a double-digit win season for the first time in eight years. In 2002, Grayslake won only four games. Now that's improvement. "Our goal was to get better each and every day, with practices and every game," said Whalen. "If we could do that, wins and losses would take care of themselves." Whalen and the boys certainly got a good jump on that.

Reynolds aces Warren Junior Open

By ROB BACKUS
Lakeland Correspondent

In a tournament filled with kids from the Gurnee area, it was Antioch's Robert Reynolds who stole the show at the 6th annual Warren Junior Open, taking all four boys titles.

"I think Reynolds is a tremendous athlete," Warren head coach and tournament director Greg Cohen said. "He has the fundamentals, along with an awesome attitude."

"This tournament proved to me that he will be a great college tennis player and he has the potential to be an All-State player next spring."

Reynolds started his day early, with a 6-0, 6-4 victory over Dan Blaul in the boy's 15-year-old singles final. He then beat his doubles partner, Brian Silverstein, 7-5, 6-3 in the boy's 18-year-old singles final.

He also swept the doubles titles, first teaming up with Conrad Siczek to beat Blaul and Patrick O'Connor 6-1, 6-2 in the boy's 15-year-old doubles final. He then teamed with Silverstein to top Bill Baluyot and Brandon Miller 3-6, 6-3, 7-5 in the boy's 18-year-old doubles final.

There were also other standouts in the tournament. Woodland Elementary School sixth grader Daniel Werst took the title in boy's 12-year-old in just his first tournament.

"He's our biggest find of the summer," Cohen said. "He is a great athlete and has shown that he is willing to learn. He could become a very good player."

Lauren Aguilar, a seventh grader at St. Patrick's, took the title in girl's 15-year-old division.

"Lauren is a great competitor," Cohen said.

Mary Gouris took the title in girl's 18-year-old title while Mallory Strakusek and Amy Bostrom took the crown in the girls doubles bracket.

In all, 36 people entered the singles bracket and 32 players competed in doubles; in Cohen's opinion a good turnout.

"It was a good tournament and we had a good turnout," Cohen said. Early round action

After the second day of action, Reynolds, a junior from Antioch High School, was the big winner. He advanced to the finals of the boy's 15-year-old singles, the boy's 18-year-old singles, the boy's 15-year-old doubles, and the boy's 18-year-old doubles.

Reynolds defeated Gurnee's Rob Ogden, an incoming freshman at Warren in the semifinals of the boy's 15-year-old division. Reynolds had advanced to meet Warren sophomore-to-be Dan Blaul in the first of his four title matches. In the 18-year-old boy's division, Reynolds knocked off the top seed, Bill Baluyot, 7-6, 3-6, 6-4. With the win, Reynolds advanced to the finals of that division to square-off against Brian Silverstein, a junior-to-be at Warren.

In the 18-year-old doubles division, Reynolds teamed with Silverstein to defeat Ryan Reimer of Antioch and Joel Barker of Gurnee, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 in the opening round. Then, Reynolds and Silverstein defeated Cory Mlinac and Dan Blaul in the semi's, 6-3, 6-3. The duo advanced to the finals Wednesday, where they tangled with Baluyot and Brandon Miller, both 2003 graduates of Warren Township High School.

Reynolds finished his marathon day with five wins combined. He also teamed up with Konrad Siczek in the boy's 15-year-old doubles division. The duo defeated Ogden and Thomas Bernard 6-2, 6-1 in the semi's to earn a title date with Blaul and Patrick O'Connor.

In girl's action, Mary Gouris, who will be a junior at Warren, swept the title in the 18-year-old category. She coasted to the title after losing just nine games in two matches. Mallory Strakusek and Amy Bostrom won the doubles title with a win over their school teammates, Gouris and Laura Nemeth.

All finals were held at the Almond Road campus.

Burke breaks four records

The Lake Forest Swim Club's 11-12-year old girls broke eight meet records while competing in the West Chicago 'Summer Splash' Swim Meet held at the University of Illinois-Chicago Natatorium. The summer season meets are held in 50-meter 'long-course' pools.

Lydia Ridgeway of Chicago started the meet off in strong fashion, winning the 200-meter individual medley with a time of 2:41.31. That time smashed the previous meet record of 2:48.79. Meanwhile, teammate Tori Alland of Buffalo Grove was second, only one second behind Ridgeway.

Then there was Antioch's Katie Burke. Burke broke the first of her four meet records while winning the 200-meter freestyle with a time of 2:25.44. That shattered the old record by over three seconds. Over the course of the meet, Burke went on to break three other meet records, winning the 50 and 100-meter backstroke events with times of 34.14 and 1:14.49, respectively. The old record in the 50-meter backstroke was 35.92, while the previous record for the 100-meter backstroke was done in 1 minute, 21.14 seconds.

Burke also broke the 50-meter freestyle record with a time of 30.19. The old mark was 31.14. All four of the girls swam 100-backstroke times that bettered the existing record.

Not to be out done, the Duck's Courtney Adams of Lake Forest set two meet records of her own. Adams won the 50 and 100-meter butterfly, sprinting to times of 32.21 and 1:12.78. The old records were 33.16 in the 50-meter butterfly, while the previous record in the 100-meter butterfly was 1:16.32. Alland followed suit with an impressive win in the 100-meter freestyle in 1:04.76. The old record in that event was 1:07.24. She edged Burke by less than 0.5 seconds.

All four of the girls have qualified for the Illinois State Junior Olympics, which will be held the first week of August in quite a number of events. Many of those times are fast enough to qualify the young ladies to swim for Team Illinois at the National Zone meet, which will be held in Indianapolis the second week of August.

Hawkeye softball is 'Golden'

Despite losing the first two games in the 2003 Northbrook Spartan tournament, the Lakeland Hawkeye girls' 12-year-old softball team came back to win four in a row and finish second in the Gold bracket championship. The Hawkeyes include, front row, from left, Kali Browning, Bailan Reynolds, Kristina Lewis, Samie Seamon, Allie Anttila and Kaley Lindstrom. Middle row, from left, includes Alyssa Alvarez, Alyssa Voykin, Rachel Tack, Jen Ignoffo, Alisa Walizer and Hanna VanDervoort. Back row, from left, is the Hawkeye coaching staff of Bill Seamon, Ron Alvarez and Jeff Anttila.

The Lakeland Hawkeyes Gold 12-year old girls softball team won the Gold bracket of the 2003 Spartan Tournament held in Northbrook. Over the three days of the tournament, the Hawkeyes played six games, losing the first two. But the girls came roaring back to win four straight in claiming the title in the Gold bracket.

The first two days of the event, the girls got off to a slow start in the tournament pool play against the Lake Forest Scouts and the Warriors Red. The Scouts won 15-3 using two strong pitchers, who surrendered only four Hawkeye hits.

Samie Seamon hit a homerun in the second inning to start a brief rally that saw the Hawkeyes score two of their runs.

Alyssa Alvarez ended the Scouts' scoring by throwing their runner out at home. The Hawkeye bats started to come alive with nine hits against the Warriors. In the second inning, Alisa Walizer had an RBI double. A third-inning triple by Allie Anttila scored two more runs. The Warriors struggled to hold on to a 9-6 win as Seamon finished with a triple in the last inning to score the final Hawkeye run. Hawkeye pitchers against the Scouts were Anttila, who tossed the first four frames, and Seamon, who pitched the fifth inning.

Against the Warriors, Kristina Lewis tossed the first three innings and Anttila the final.

Later on the second day of action, the Hawkeyes rebounded by beating the Hyenas 17-14. Kali Browning pitched the first three frames and Samie Seamon the fourth.

Bailan Reynolds, Kaley Lindstrom and Allie Anttila made it on base and scored each time they were at bat. Alyssa Voykin had a single, triple and three RBI, Anttila's a single, double and three RBI, and Seamon, who smacked a long single in the second inning that produced three more runs. Other solid hits were made by Browning, Rachel Tack, Kristina Lewis and Jen Ignoffo.

The final day of the tournament was single elimination play. The Hawkeye first handled the Hyenas 17-9 in a slaughter-rule shortened contest. Lewis tossed the first three innings and Seamon the fourth and final frame. The duo combined to surrender only five Hyena hits. Offensively, Reynolds scored four runs while Lindstrom and Seamon each scored three times.

Strong hitting was led by Ignoffo (three RBI), Lewis (two RBI), Browning (RBI), Tack (two RBI), Anttila (RBI), Voykin (two RBI), Walizer (RBI) and Seamon (RBI).

The Hawkeyes shut out the North Suburban Slammers 8-0 in five-and-a-half innings in the second game of the afternoon.

Allie Anttila pitched an excellent game, striking out six of the 21 batters she faced. The only hit she surrendered was a fourth-inning double. Meanwhile, the Hawkeyes had nine singles hit by eight different players. Aggressive base running for the Hawkeyes in the fifth frame resulted in stolen bases by Tack, Alvarez, Reynolds, Lindstrom and Seamon. The Hawkeyes plated their final five runs in the frame.

The tournament concluded that afternoon with the Hawkeyes defeating the Algonquin Aces 6-5. Anttila pitched an outstanding seven innings. She fanned six of the 28 batters she faced. Anttila's line included five walks three hits allowed.

Reynolds and Lindstrom having two singles apiece. Ignoffo and Hannah VanDervoort also collected three singles each. Tack added a single and double. Good defensive infield play by Browning, Lindstrom and Seamon resulted in eight of the Aces' outs.

The Hawkeye coaches include Jeff Anttila, Bill Seamon and Ron Alvarez.

The Flatlander Files: On the road in Wisconsin

It was time for a change. One of us had graduated. Some were just plain let loose so some adults could recuperate for the summer. This meant another adult was currently dodging water balloons on her way to the laundry room.

And forget about getting help from the leader of our group. This dude was definitely gone—ready to throw caution to the wind and hit the road for two weeks.

Yep, crazy cat Dad wanted to blow our tract house and dig the raw adventure only found in Wisconsin, where even-keeled plains turn into jagged limestone bluffs.

He'd already hung up his razor and replaced it with the bare essentials for life on the edge. These included:

The super duper power master—an independent power station that can handle all electrical emergencies from a dead car

LIFE

Leslie Glazier-Werner

battery to deflated swim "floaties" and still light Gurnee.

Deluxe double burner camp stove—weighing about 50 pounds for convenient roadside set up.

Complete nighttime encampment—after only three or so hours of construction, you're ready to send out new address announcements.

Laptop, palm pilot, cell phone, answering machine—a vagabond's tenuous connection to his former life—used on average five times a day).

Walke-talkies—insistent calls ignored by this "bozo journalist" as she attempts to write columns from a bush.

I didn't care if there was only enough space left in our vehicle for a few meager belongings. I'd developed a summer cold from the kid's target practice, so I already knew how to survive on just throat lozenges, chest rub, and decongestant. I was in the perfect state of mind as we rolled into "Las Vegas goes latency"—the Wisconsin Dells.

Fear and daring in the Dells

I cranked my seat back and tried to take in every child's Nirvana.

"Why yes, Junior, run from water park to water park until you shrivel up like a prune.

"And YES, dear, if you've got the itch to go-cart, Go! Go! Go! But then be sure to fling yourself over the highway on that huge sling-shot over there!

"YESIREE! You sure can down all that cotton candy and popcorn, then 'lose it' on your way through the haunted house. Just enjoy, experience, BE..."

"BURN!" I could hear my kid's repeating the same mantra from the back seat, "YES!"

YES! YES!"

Luckily, Dad booked us into "The Great Wolf Lodge" so I could clear my nasal passages poolside after a hard night hitting my pillow.

As it turned out, these "wild" accommodations were the gathering place for other Illinois drifters wearing wrinkled Dockers and Chicago Cub tee shirts.

We had come together once again, school chums and co-workers, for a daylong free-for-all that repeatedly sent us reeling over the edge—on both indoor and outdoor water slides. The timid became fearless, from the eight-year-old initially grafted to Dad's leg, to the sinus-blocked Mom willing to stand under a huge bucket spilling 700 gallons of water...ONCE.

After the Dells, we were ready for anything. We needn't fear Nature. We now knew it could easily be laminated, or stuffed, and put in a hotel lobby. We needn't fear the elements. They had provided us with hours of thrills and spills.

We were definitely flying...so we hit the on ramp for Oshkosh.

The game's afoot in 'Sign of the Four' but the play limps along

Whodunit master Arthur Conan Doyle provides the season finale for Apple Tree Theatre in Highland Park as it presents Shanghai Low Theatricals' world premiere stage adaptation of the Conan Doyle novel "The Sign of the Four."

The 1890 tale has all the ingredients of a first-rate mystery: a missing treasure, a secret pact and the discovery of a corpse in a locked room.

When a young, attractive governess shows up at Sherlock Holmes' study to recount the story of her long-missing father, the discovery of a cryptic map and the annual receipt of exquisite pearls from an anonymous benefactor who finally wants to meet her, it's no wonder the famed sleuth is intrigued.

She is allowed to have two friends accompany her. So in no time "the game is afoot," as the urbane, pipe-smoking cocaine-snorting crime solver (admirably played by Michael Grant) puts it.

Holmes minces no words to his trusted associate and biographer, Dr. Watson (Joe Forbrich), explaining the three requisite qualities of a "real" detective: the power of observation, a proficiency at deduction and broad knowledge.

But the real mystery is why this two-act drama, directed by Steve Pickering, falls so flat. Pickering makes the most of

Apple Tree's tiny stage, creatively maneuvering props that serve multiple functions. And

Holmes' cluttered office, complete with a bullet-riddled portrait of Queen Victoria, couldn't be better.

Yet the characters seem one dimensional — more intent on telling the story instead of letting it develop naturally onstage. Furthermore, except for Holmes himself, the British accent are laughable.

That being said, this adaptation still manages to preserve the complicated plot.

Eventually, a secret pact is revealed and, helped by a chance remark from Watson, the murder gets solved. It's only a matter for the Baker Street Irregulars, local lads retained by Holmes, and the whereabouts of the culprits are uncovered.

Kate Martin does a good job as Mary Morstan, the woman who acquaints Holmes of the mystery and who turns the eye of the insecure Dr. Watson. Linda Kimbrough also impresses as Holmes' fussy housekeeper Mrs. Hudson (and other multiple roles).

Tom Bateman plays the flamboyant, if nervous, Sholto and Bill McGough the local constabulary who is quick to jump to conclusions. Parvesh Cheena, Anish Jethmalani, Ronald Jiu and Larry Neumann Jr. round out the cast.

"The Sign of the Four" will run through July 20. For ticket information: 847-432-4335.

Real cowboys ride into 40th Wauconda Rodeo

The Wauconda Rodeo goes "over the hill" this summer, as it celebrates its 40th year of existence. Spanning a three day period from July 11 through the 13th, starting at 8 p.m., 7 p.m., and 2 p.m. accordingly.

Tickets for this anniversary event can be purchased for a mere $12 for adults and $6 for kids. The tickets will be made available starting June 15, or can simply be purchased at the event.

This International Professional Rodeo Association event will be of significant importance to the professionals who will be gaining points towards a national championship bid. The six major events will include calf roping, saddled bronco riding, bare-back bronco riding, steer wrestling, women's barrel racing, and the fan-favorite, bull riding. With IPRA points on the line, the fans will surely be in for the best efforts from each competitor.

The event will take place at the Golden Oaks Equestrian Center on the corner of Case Road and Route 12. Parking is $6 per vehicle. More information can be obtained from the Wauconda Chamber of Commerce at 847-526-5580.

Off Square Music presents two great folk performances

Off Square Music Presents in Concert on July 19 at 8 p.m. at the Unitarian Church, 221 Dean Street, Woodstock, two great Folk Performances in one evening: Bill Camplin and Tricia Alexander with Alpha Stewart, Jr., Chicago's percussionist wonder.

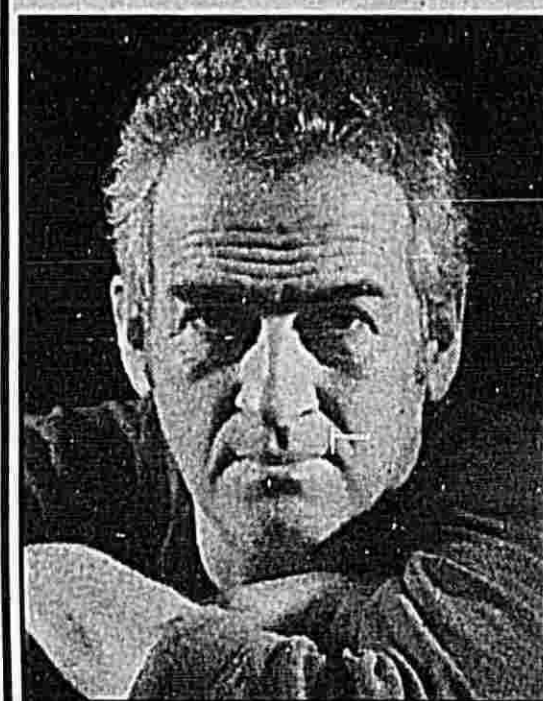

Bill Camplin a singer/songwriter, owner of Café Carpe in Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, writes songs that rummage through the human condition. A composer of familiar, accessible melodies about battered hearts, broken dreams and tortured emotions, his lyrics flash pure poetry.

He drives his songs forward with his own rhythm guitar, and sings with a shining baritone voice that keeps the spirit of his songs more bitter than sweet. There are traces of Bob Dylan and even Lou Reed in Camplin's tender toughness.

Tricia Alexander is one of Chicago's finest folk performers. She uses her impressive talent on the guitar and her rich, complex voice to weave together the best of jazz, blues and folk into a seasoned mix that is uniquely hers. Tricia combines music, poetry, and comedy into an entertaining concert guaranteed to make you laugh and cry. Tricia's CD, Grace, is here. Admission is $10 and doors open at 7:30 p.m. For reservation/information, call Keith at 815-338-5164. Or e-mail him at blueloom@mc.net. Visit the web site at offsquaremusic.org.

At Lake Forest Hospital, we believe that having the clearest possible picture of the problem is key to devising the best treatment. That's why our radiology services are so advanced.

Our new $2-million MRI—state-of-the-art technology—is showing us things physicians hadn't seen before. It's improving the diagnosis of injury and disease in virtually every part of the body, and leading the way to newly sophisticated but minimally invasive treatments. Such as vertebroplasty, an advanced technique for relieving back pain that's unresponsive to other therapies. Better yet, our patients' MRI examinations now take less time and are more comfortable. As expected, July's big budget action movies, with lots of humor and CGI, are targeted toward teenage boys. Thrown into the mix are a few films aimed at adults, such as "Johnny English," "Swimming Pool" and "Seabiscuit." Depending on your mood, there is something for everyone.

July 18 Bad Boys II: Will Smith and Martin Lawrence return

In a sequel to their 1995 film, as heroes out to prevent a shipment of ecstasy from getting into Miami. Also stars Gabrielle Union ("Deliver Us from Eva").

Johnny English: Rowan Atkinson ("Bean") brings this huge hit to the US from England; a spoof of bungling Johnny English, with a satirical take on cinema's suave spies. He is assigned a case to recover the Queen's jewels that are stolen by John Malkovich.

July 25 Lara Croft Tomb Raider: The Cradle of Life: With the first "Tomb Raider" clocking what was then a blockbuster opening weekend of $47.7M, and ended up with a worldwide box office of almost $300M, it will be interesting to see what happens with this one. We have entered a phase of "one night stands," as films open huge ($60-80M or more), only to see a large fall off the next weekend. It's sort of a blockbuster of the week, not the summer.

The sequel takes us on a world-wide tour of Hong Kong, Kenya, Tanzania, Greece and Wales as she tries to save the world from unspeakable evil as she jet skis, motorcycles, rides horses, and more.

George liked the first film but felt somewhat overloaded with the CGI and strip tease issue, skintight suits with the push up bras. Oops are we getting confused with "Full Throttle?" Once may have been enough, but with Djimon Hounsou joining Angelina Jolie for her greatest challenges yet, we're anxious to see the sequel. Jolie likes to do a lot of her stunts and we expect that to counterbalance some of the over the top CGI action.

Spy Kids 3-D: Game Over: In this 3rd chapter of "Spy Kids," siblings Daryl Sabara and Alexa Vega find themselves trapped in a virtual reality video game designed by sinister toy maker Sylvester Stallone. Sounds like big fun, as Antonio Banderas, Carla Gugino, and Ricardo Montalban reprise their roles as the kids' father, mother and grandfather.

Seabiscuit: Tobey Maguire ("Spiderman") returns to his art house roots ("The Cider House Rules" and "The Ice Storm") to star as a jockey in this Depression era drama, based on Laura Hillenbrand's best selling 2001 book. Based upon a true story, sight impaired jockey Red Pollard rides his crooked legged horse, Seabiscuit, to glory.

The Legend of Suriyothai

Rating

R
Violence and some nudity

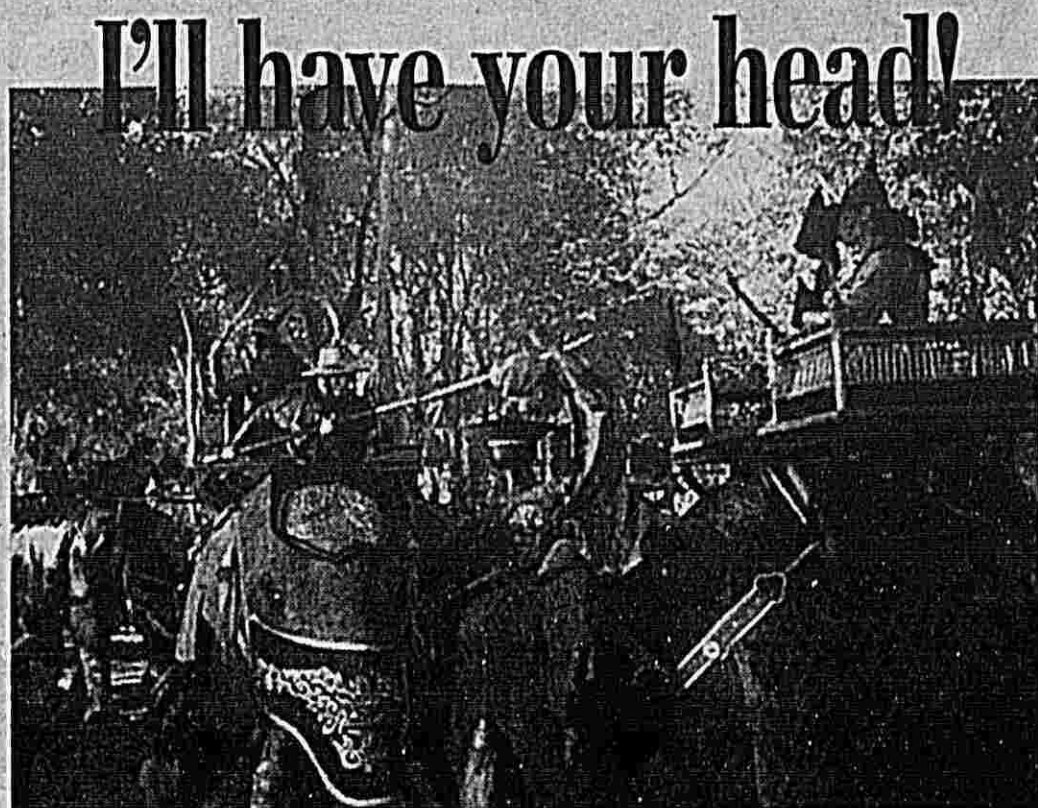

Director

Prince Chattri Chalm Yukol

This epic film presents a dramatic period in the history of Thailand during the 16th century; covering civil wars within Thailand and an invasion by Burma. Based upon a true story, Queen Suriyothai led her army into battle against the invading troops of Burma to reenergize her legions, which had been snared into an ambush. If they lost that battle, the entire nation would fall.

As a young princess, Suriyothai was in love with Piren but because of family duty she married Prince Tien. As the story evolves, a king is poisoned, and a "high consort" manipulates her way into becoming the queen and literally becomes a cutthroat to the king's perceived enemies.

The story line appears melodramatic at times, probably because of the editing. It covers a period of almost 60 years, and the original version of the film (released in Thailand) is nearly five hours in length.

Women are portrayed as capable of retaining their sexuality while having the ability to be both smarter and more powerful than a King with respect to their courage, strategy and willingness to fight men one on one on the battlefield. The film portrays a difficult time in the cultural history of Thailand. It took over two years to complete and one should not be surprised that it's the most expensive Thai film ever made.

The origins of this film lay somewhat with "Anna and the King," which was filmed in Malaysia, as it was not allowed to be filmed in Thailand. The Thai Monarchy wanted to make a film that more accurately reflected its history. "The Legend of Suriyothai" was in development five years before "Anna and the King" was made. When production began Thai locations that would not normally be opened to the making of a movie were made available, which accounts for the lush scenery and cinematography.

The US theatrical release of "...Suriyothai" is 142 minutes, and an outstanding film; in the longer DVD version it's a masterpiece. However, with more than 5,000 extras and 200 elephants, the epic battle scenes will be best appreciated on the large screen with a state of the art sound system.

NEW RELEASES

These films are currently playing at local theaters. More reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews and Future Films at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

North Shore Art Festival gets a new home

The 13th Annual North Shore Art Festival has found a new home at the Old Orchard Mall. On July 26 and 27 the parking fields of the mall from Bloomingdales to Nordstroms will house over 200 fine artisans exhibiting in a variety of mediums such as paintings, pottery, sculptures, ceramics, jewelry and more. On Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. visitors will be entertained with live music, tasty festival foods and of course great fine art.

This year, the North Shore Art Festival was rated one of the top 100 art festivals in the nation by Sunshine Magazine, the art industry's leading publication. The quality and variety of artwork in this festival has proven to be the stronghold of its success. The Festival will welcome contemporary paintings along with batik jewelry, raku pottery, stone tables, glass and more. Artwork seen at this year's festival is guaranteed to be creative and unique. Art enthusiasts of all ages and incomes will be satisfied.

A benefit for the Skokie Chamber of Commerce, the show features artists from as near as Chicago and as far away as New York, Florida and California. Hundreds of artists compete each year for a spot in this prestigious art festival. Every artist will be present at the show to answer any questions or commission pieces.

Live entertainment will be provided by nationally recognized musician Marcille Wallis. Marcille will play her original songs on the dulcimer the entire weekend. Be sure to stop by her booth and enjoy her melodic tunes. And for those appetites, food booths will be set-up throughout the festival offering tasty festival foods.

To attend take the Eden Expressway (I-94) to Old Orchard Road and head east to the mall. For more information, call the Skokie Chamber of Commerce at 847-673-0240 or Howard Alan Events at 954-472-3755 or visit the web site at www.ARTFESTIVAL.com.

Get a laugh
at Theater in the Woods

Theater in the Woods moves indoors with its summer 2003 play "Social Security." The curtain goes up Fridays and Saturdays, July 25-26, August 1-2, at 8 p.m., and Sundays, July 27 and August 3 at 2 p.m. At Zion Lutheran Church, 10 Deerfield Road, Deerfield.

Social Security is a real, honest-to-goodness hit Broadway comedy, written by Hollywood screenwriter Andrew Bergman ("Blazing Saddles," "Honeymoon in Vegas," "The In-Laws." The New York Post said at the time,

"...you can laugh out loud, joyfully...for the play is a hoot, and better yet, a sophisticated, even civilized hoot." Social Security is about love-young love, middle-age love, and love when you're a "certain age."

Tickets are $10 and are available at the Riverwoods Village Hall, or by phone at 847-945-0592. For more information, phone 847-945-1016.

Small Potatoes to perform a mix of music

Small Potatoes will perform in a Gazebo Concert at Prairie Crossing Friday July 18, 8 p.m. Prairie Crossing is located on the west side of Route 45, .5 mile south of Route 120, at Jones Point Road.

Small Potatoes is Jacquie Manning and Rich Prezioso. They call themselves eclectic-maniacs. They describe their music as "Celtic to Cowboy" and say it has taken them "years of careful indecision" to come up with a mix of music that ranges from country, blues, and swing to Irish, with songwriting that touches on all of those styles and more.

The cost is $10 and children are always free. For more information call 847-543-1202.

Invitational exhibit features wood art

"Turned & Shaped," an invitational exhibition of wood art, will opened July 3 in the Robert T. Wright Community Gallery of Art at the College of Lake County. A public reception will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. July 11. The exhibit will continue through Aug. 8.

The exhibit will feature more than 30 pieces of wood art made by 30 artists who created their works by turning wood on a lathe and then decorating with images or objects. Items in the show include functional bowls, vases, platters and furniture, such as a Windsor chair and natural-edged table.

The artists represented are members of the Chicago Wood Turners Association, and several are from Lake County, Illinois and neighboring states.

The gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday through Aug. 1. The hours for Aug. 4-8 are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. For information, call Steve Jones, art gallery curator, at 847-543-2240.

Child care center receives national re-accreditation

The College of Lake County's child-care center at the Lakeshore Campus in Waukegan has been granted a three-year re-accreditation by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), the nation's largest organization of early childhood educators.

The re-accreditation was granted after an intensive evaluation process, which included a self-study, on-site visit and a final review by the NAEYC, noted Sandy Groeninger, director of the CLC's child care program.

"The self-study consisted of an evaluation of our curriculum, observation of teachers in their classrooms and feedback from parent surveys," said Groeninger.

The accreditation demonstrates that the child-care program meets national standards of quality, noted Groeninger. "The accreditation process is an opportunity for us to look at our curriculum. The interaction between the child-care center staff and children is the critical part of our program, and it is important that we make improvements to enhance the quality," she said.

CLC operates child care centers at its Grayslake and Lakeshore campuses, serving preschool and school-age children 2-12 years old, whose parents are CLC students or staff. Both centers are open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 7 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Fridays. For information about

Campus

CLC's child care program, call 847-543-2053.

Business seminar to cover OSHA compliance

A series of three seminars on OSHA health and safety regulations will be presented by the College of Lake County's Small Business Development Center.

The first seminar, "Machinery and Machine Safeguarding," will be held on July 14, followed by "Recordkeeping Requirements" on Aug. 11 and "OSHA is Knocking: Are You Ready?" on Sept. 8. All seminars will be held from 8 a.m. to noon in Room C003 on the Grayslake Campus. The cost is $25 per seminar or $60 for the series. For information or registration, call 847-543-2033.

New-student orientation

The College of Lake County student development office will conduct orientation sessions in July for new degree-seeking students planning to enroll at CLC for fall 2003 semester.

The new-student orientation sessions will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. on July 16, 24 and 28, and 9 a.m. to noon on July 10, 18, 22 and 30 on the Grayslake Campus. The sessions will include presentations on CLC programs and services, financial aid, and the advisement process. In addition, students will be able to complete academic advisement, course selection and registration. A campus tour will be included and refreshments served. New students are strongly encouraged to attend an orientation session.

Prior to attending the orientation, students must have filed a CLC application in the admissions office and fulfilled the admission requirements, including taking the Academic Proficiency Test or submitting high school or college transcripts or ACT, SAT or GED scores for evaluation.

Students planning on taking courses in math, chemistry or computer information systems must also have taken appropriate tests before attending orientation. Pre-registration is required for the orientation session. For more information and to reserve a seat, call 847-543-2090.

'Quickbooks' workshop

A hands-on workshop covering the use of the popular business software QuickBooks Pro will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. July 16 at the College of Lake County's Southlake Educational Center in Vernon Hills. Students will learn how to set up QuickBooks, work with lists, sell products, invoice for services, customize forms, process payments, work with bank accounts, enter and pay bills, create reports and graphs, track and pay sales tax and more. The seminar will be presented by Rick Bennett and Jane Pries of the CPA firm, Dam, Snell & Taveirne, Ltd.

The cost is $180. To register, call 847-543-2033 or fax to 847-223-9371. The program is being sponsored by CLC's Small Business Development Center.

Trustee named to county post

Round Lake—Lake County Sheriff Gary Del Re selected Round Lake Park Village Trustee Dave Christensen as the new Lake County Emergency Management Coordinator. Christensen will be responsible for developing a county-wide emergency preparedness plan.

New chief steps in Round Lake Beach—Mayor Richard Hill tapped former Rolling Meadows Deputy Chief Douglas R. Larsson, a 30-year veteran of that force, as the new Round Lake Beach chief of police over 89 prospective choices. Larsson replaces former chief Ed Sindles resign after nine years as the village's top cop.

Gunman attacks woman in car

Libertyville—Police are investigating an armed robbery in which a man forced a woman into her own car at gunpoint at the Butterfield Square mall, had her drive to a nearby ATM machine and escaped with $630 cash.

The robbery began about 11:30 p.m. on Sunday, July 6, outside Kinko's, at the southeast corner of Peterson and Butterfield Roads.

The suspect, wearing dark clothing, is described as a black male, about 5-foot-11, with a medium build, in his mid-20s.

Tree rips into home

Grayslake—Terry Sutton returned from vacation and found two 50-year-old, 50-foot Siberian elm trees toppled onto the top floor of her Cape Cod home on Slusser Street.

The impact from the trees, which hit her house at an estimated 100 mph, shifted the house so badly that she can't open or close most of the doors inside.

Sutton noticed that the trees were resting on a live electrical wire in her bedroom and called ComEd, which said it wasn't a priority to fix at the time, due to power outages in the area.

The fire department would not remove the trees until the line was cut. Fifty-five hours later ComEd cut the line after the house suffered heavy water damage to the already ravaged home because of storms this week.

Alleged predator is arrested

Antioch—Tommy E. Harnden, 36, of Spring Grove, was arrested on two counts of predatory sexual assault, after he allegedly had sexual contact with a seven-year-old neighborhood girl. Harnden is being held in the Lake County Jail on $200,000 bond and a preliminary hearing is scheduled for July 23.

Jail chief quits

Sheriff asks for resignation after coming under fire

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Staff Reporter

The July 9 resignation of Lake County Jail Director Charles DeFilippo, stemming from allegations of inappropriate sexual behavior, drew fire from 2002 sheriff's candidate Chuck Fagan on the running of the jail, and a sharp rebuttal from Sheriff Gary Del Re.

DeFilippo, 44, became Director of Corrections in April 2000, after 18 1/2 years with the department.

The official announcement of DeFilippo's resignation came at 2 p.m. Wednesday, from the sheriff's department in Waukegan.

Del Re said he had reviewed copies of personal emails the jail director had allegedly exchanged with a 27-year-old woman in Zion, within the last week.

The woman had shown authorities the email, and the Lake County State's Attorney's office reviewed possible charges, but found no evidence of criminal behavior, said Del Re.

The woman's complaint alleged that DeFilippo had engaged in unacceptable and inappropriate language of a sexual nature via the Internet. An investigation into the allegations by the Zion Police Department indicated that there had been no inappropriate conduct involving juveniles.

The Zion investigation also established that no physical contact of any kind occurred, but that contact was restricted to the consensual use of an Internet chat room.

Del Re told Lakeland Newspapers on Wednesday that although there was no basis for criminal charges, DeFilippo was asked to step down "because of the nature and tone of the conversation on the Internet. I could no longer keep (DeFilippo) in that capacity as director."

Del Re said he asked for DeFilippo's resignation solely on the basis of the incident with the woman, and not because of accumulated infractions by DeFilippo, including a "mismanaged" jail death in early 2002, as Fagan suggested this week.

Chili's salmonella case count climbs

By SONJA SCHNEIDER and
DENYS BUCKSTEN
Staff Reporters

The number of people infected with salmonellosis at the Vernon Hills Chili's Bar and Grill is on the rise with over 120 patrons still reporting symptoms and 64 confirmed cases.

As a result of the disease nine people received hospital care and were released.

"The restaurant has been closed voluntarily since July 1. All food workers have been tested and the restaurant will reopen when tests indicated that the food workers are free of the diseases," said Leslie Piotrowski, communications manager of the Lake County Health Department.

Preliminary results of the epidemiological study reported the disease didn't point to food but rather one employee with the lack of hand washing who had the disease and contaminated multiple food items and equipment, Piotrowski said.

"Upon receiving the first report on June 30, we began an investigation to contain this outbreak," said health department Executive Director Dale Galassie. "We believe there are individuals who are unaware they are infected who could spread the disease, and continue to suffer without proper medical attention."

Health officials ask those who have eaten at Chili's, 567 E. Town Line Road, between June 23 and June 1, and have developed diarrhea, fever and/or stomach cramps, to see a physician and wash their hands to prevent spreading the illness.

Salmonellosis is spread by eating contaminated food or by contact with an infected person who failed to wash hands after using the restroom.

"Chili's began working closely with the Health Department to thoroughly investigate the situation to try to determine what caused the problem," said Louis Adams, a Chili's representative. "The investigation is continuing at this time, but no precise cause has been determined so far."

For questions related to the disease, call the Health Department's Communicable Disease Program at 847-377-8130, or a private physician.

Governor ups school funding at visit here

By CHRISTY BLANDFORD
Lakeland Correspondent

Governor Rod Blagojevich took time to read a book to schoolchildren in Deerfield on Wednesday, after signing a bill he said will make their futures a little brighter.

The bill will pour millions into state school districts.

Blagojevich, local legislators, and school officials gathered at Alan B. Shepard Junior High in Deerfield where the governor signed an education bill that will increase education funding by $384.5 million this year.

The spending plan increases the amount of funding each district receives per pupil by $250 to $4,810, adds $30 million to state funds spent on early childhood education and allocates $500 million for school construction and renovation projects.

A new teacher scholarship program will also be created to attract new teachers to areas where educators are not properly trained, or where there are teacher shortages, Blagojevich said.

Suburban schools will also be fully reimbursed for special education costs and transportation for students with special needs under the new school-funding plan.

with a $5 billion budget deficit, spending had to be scrutinized, said State Senator Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest), one of the bill's major proponents. Garrett said funds should be prioritized—and education was a top concern.

"This was the most challenging budget process ever, but we fulfilled our commitment to our children by passing a school funding package that benefits every school in the state," she said. "When we have to choose between the likes of a Jack Benny statue or books in the classroom, we made the right choice."

Legislators were able to find more money to spend on education by closing corporate tax loopholes, increasing taxes on casinos and cutting $1.3 billion in government spending, Blagojevich said.

Although Blagojevich said state officials are "far from out of the woods" on balancing the entire state budget, he said finding additional funding for schools sets a precedent that should be followed—providing the same services with fewer resources.

"We've had to make some very difficult decisions about how to cut back spending and instill fiscal discipline," Blagojevich said. "We worked hard and crafted a plan that gives schools the biggest funding boost they've seen in many years. We not only balanced our budget, but we found $400 million in new money." More state funding will allow school districts to spend more of their budgets on hiring more teachers or purchasing more schoolbooks, which will "give our children the learning environment they deserve," Blagojevich said.

The increase in funding will pour $1.3 million into the budgets of Deerfield-area schools, Blagojevich said.

Blagojevich waved to a group of third-grade Deerfield students Wednesday as they waited for him to read them "Casey at the Bat." He said the extra school funding will provide the students, and others throughout the state, a jump-start on their future.

"We invested the taxpayers' money—your money—where it belongs," he said. "As a result, the children here in Deerfield and across the state will benefit today and far into the future."

QUITS

Fagan said that "my problem with Chuck (DeFilippo) is that when they arrested a guy for using a controlled substance, they had him in a holding cell for over 30 hours and he ingested cocaine while there that he either had on him, or got after being booked."

"The coroner (Barbara Richardson) said the most feasible cause of death was cocaine toxicity, but Del Red said it was a heart attack."

To which Del Re replied that Fagan is "not aware of how we have modified our handling of deaths in the jail. And (DeFilippo's ouster) is based solely on the incident (with the Zion woman) and not any buildup of issues that Fagan may have thought occurred."

Fagan, who retired from the Sheriff's Department at the rank of lieutenant, after many years as a top detective, unsuccessfully challenged Del Re in the November 2002 general election. Patrick Firman, deputy director under DeFilippo, has been named interim director. Firman has been with the department 13 years.

Work underway at savanna

Work to complete over seven miles of trail for hiking, biking and snowmobiling and create new public access areas began at Rollins Savanna Forest Preserves near Grayslake on July 7. The temporary parking lot and mowed-grass trail will close during construction.

Improvements include an entrance drive off Washington Street across from Atkinson Road with an 80-car parking lot, access to 5.7 miles of gravel trail, and a bridge crossing over Mill Creek.

Secondary Preserve access and a 40-car parking area will be available on Drury Lane along with access to one-and-a-half miles of additional gravel trail, which will be part of the planned Millennium Trail.

Rollins Savanna is the second largest forest preserve in the county at 1,225 acres.

Restoration efforts for the Preserve's oak woodland, savanna, prairie and wetland communities are part of a massive on-going habitat restoration and preservation project.

It is the largest restoration effort ever undertaken by the Lake County Forest Preserves.

Other improvements include building restrooms and a native seed nursery with a greenhouse, installing trailside nature education exhibits and observation blinds; and establishing Rollins Savanna as an ecological research site and outdoor classroom for local universities, schools, and other organizations.

Federal bucks boost watershed plan for stormwater group

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Watershed planners continue on task, with some help for the area from a congressional appropriation.

Lake County Stormwater Management Commission (SMC) will use the $1.27 million investment for sub-watershed activities in the Fox River and Lake Michigan watersheds.

The funding is from the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Natural Resources Conservation Service watershed program through the efforts of U.S. Senator Dick Durbin (D., Ill.); Rep. Phil Crane (R-Wauconda) and Rep. Mark Kirk (R-Great Lakes).

The appropriation will enhance current watershed planning efforts in the Fish Lake Drain and Eagle Creek sub-watersheds. The majority of the funding will go toward updating floodplain mapping to complement the floodplain study, officials said.

Lake County Board Member Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingleside) was pleased with the grant to the SMC.

"The Fish Lake Drain committee has been meeting for about a year. The villages who have participated, townships and unincorporated areas have had a great deal of input. This will help to implement the goals," Carter said.

The Fish Lake Drain and Eagle Creek are part of the Squaw Creek sub-watershed, one of the largest of 26, Carter said.

Once the Lake County Board approves goals, individual towns will be asked to approve them.

The SMC announced that comprehensive watershed plans are earmarked for the Kellogg Creek and the Dead River-Bull Creek sub-watersheds in the Lake Michigan watershed. Watershed planning efforts include stakeholder outreach, a floodplain study and remapping, flood damage assessment, stream inventory, water quality and natural areas assessment, and formulation of action plans for watershed management.

"Through the efforts of our elected officials we can begin assessing our needs through those living in the watershed and come up with management plans that are citizen based and citizen acceptable," said Ward Miller, SMC executive director.

A key ingredient to the SMC's watershed planning process is flood damage assessment, including historically flood-prone areas.

Assessment would entail collecting available data from the municipalities, townships, and individual residents to identify flood prone areas. Updated floodplain mapping would identify additional flood problem areas. Collecting site-specific survey data for the problem area that appears to have had the most severe flooding issues permits the development of possible solutions for the flooding problems.

All four sub-watershed areas have been determined to be "high priority" to the SMC because of their development potential and existing and potential flooding and water quality problems.

A watershed plan is developed to provide direction and target resources for better management and restoration of the watershed, the SMC stated.

The goals of watershed management are to improve water quality, to reduce flood damage, to protect natural resources in a watershed, and to prevent existing watershed problems from worsening as a result of future land development.

Updating information in a watershed plan is important, according to the SMC, because it provides guidance for activities such as zoning, transportation considerations, land acquisition, open space preservation and restoration.

Each of the 26 sub-watershed areas may have its own standards. Lake Michigan watershed has a system of bluffs and ravines, as opposed to the flat and linear Chicago River.

Stakeholders, or anyone interested in watershed planning, may contact the SMC's Libertyville office, at 6333-B Peterson Road, at 847-918-5260, or on the web site, www.co.lake.il.us/smc.

Peterson, Geo-Karis set to serve on Veterans Task Force

State senators Bill Peterson (R-Long Grove) and Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) have been named to a panel of state senators investigating the needs of veterans returning home from Iraq and recent layoffs at the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs. Senate Republican Leader Frank Watson (R-Greenville) appointed Peterson to the newly formed Senate Republican Task Force on Veterans to research and develop legislation to meet those needs.

Peterson served six years in the Army from 1956 through 1962, two in Active Duty, two in Active Reserves, and two in the Standby Reserves. He was a member of the Quartermaster Corps, stationed in Okinawa after the Korean War.

Geo-Karis served in the U.S. Navy on active duty from 1942 to 1946 as a top legal specialist and in the active reserves from 1946 to 1952. She began as an apprentice seaman and ended her career as Lt. Commander with top secret clearance. During her tour in the Navy she taught Naval Law at Smith College in Northampton, MA and worked as the Legal and Discipline Officer of the Enlisted Personnel Separation Center at Great Lakes

Naval Training Center in North Chicago.

Other members of the Task Force include Chairman Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion), Vice Chairman John O. Jones (R-Mt. Vernon), and Senators Ray Soden (R-Wood Dale) and Todd Sieben (R-Geneseo).

The Task Force will hold public hearings, take testimony, and design and complete research projects necessary to meet the changing needs of veterans taking into consideration the state's limited budget resources.

It will also educate other members of the General Assembly on pertinent Veterans' issues.

"The needs of veterans and their families are changing," said Geo-Karis. "Already I have received questions from constituents with family members in Iraq. As our soldiers start to return home, I anticipate even more questions. Given the state's limited budget resources we will need to develop creative solutions to the issues facing the veterans of Operation Iraqi Freedom. That's why we're starting to review their concerns and research the issues now and see what can be done to help our veterans."

Find incubator for affordability in new housing

The long arm of the federal government is about to respond to a problem that has been perplexing Lake County political and business leaders for years, providing affordable housing for lower income families.

Ironically, the breakthrough project will be located in Volo, the county's newest and smallest in population municipality. Invigorated with federal tax credits, a regional builder has gained approval for construction of 192 units of which 15 units will be set aside for affordable rents regarded as market ranging from $670 to $1,060 per month. The units will be part of a 20 acre complex to be built near a Home Depot off Route 12.

Volo Mayor Burnell Russell expressed some misgivings about the innovative project, but is giving his blessings as part of an aggressive growth strategy. Initially, the project will add an estimated 260 residents in one, two and three bedroom components. Volo's population currently is 280.

There have been three or four attempts in the last 15 years to enlist support for affordable housing in Lake County. Geared for private investment, efforts always ran into the same obstacle—defining affordability. In an era of rapid growth and development, the bar for housing costs has been escalating rapidly for years. Builders could achieve greater profits with more expensive housing. Correspondingly, officialdom liked more costly homes for the increased real estate tax revenue.

The Volo project is being guided by the Metropolitan Planning Council of Chicago, a non-profit organization long interested in matching housing with jobs under the theory that it is desirable to live near where you work. Perhaps with some administrative stretching, Volo was found to comply with the standard for being near a rich job pool.

Both business leaders and elected officials will be following the Volo project with keen interest because it is being regarded as a standard setter for future development. Driven by tax incentives, builders can be expected to take a fresh look at the market for affordable housing. At the same time, local officials eager for growth without doubt will be induced to change their attitudes about affordability. What is at stake is a new dimension for housing. Volo, which struck out on peaker generating plant production, could be the incubator for a surge of affordable housing construction.

Giving, taking personal freedom

While the nation's attention is focused on landmark U.S. Supreme Court decisions including a strike down of sodomy laws that appear to strengthen personal privacy, a trend continues toward lessening of personal rights in public places.

That could be an interpretation of action taken by the Grayslake High School board of education to install 80 closed-circuit television cameras for the fall term. The school is acting under the guise of school security and public safety, but increasing surveillance of personal activity, even in a public place like a school, can come under the heading of impinging personal rights.

High school officials, to be sure, were quick to qualify their action by pointing out the surveillance cameras will not monitor privacy areas like washrooms. Still, 80 cameras add up to lot of surveillance in a school building even with more than 2,000 students.

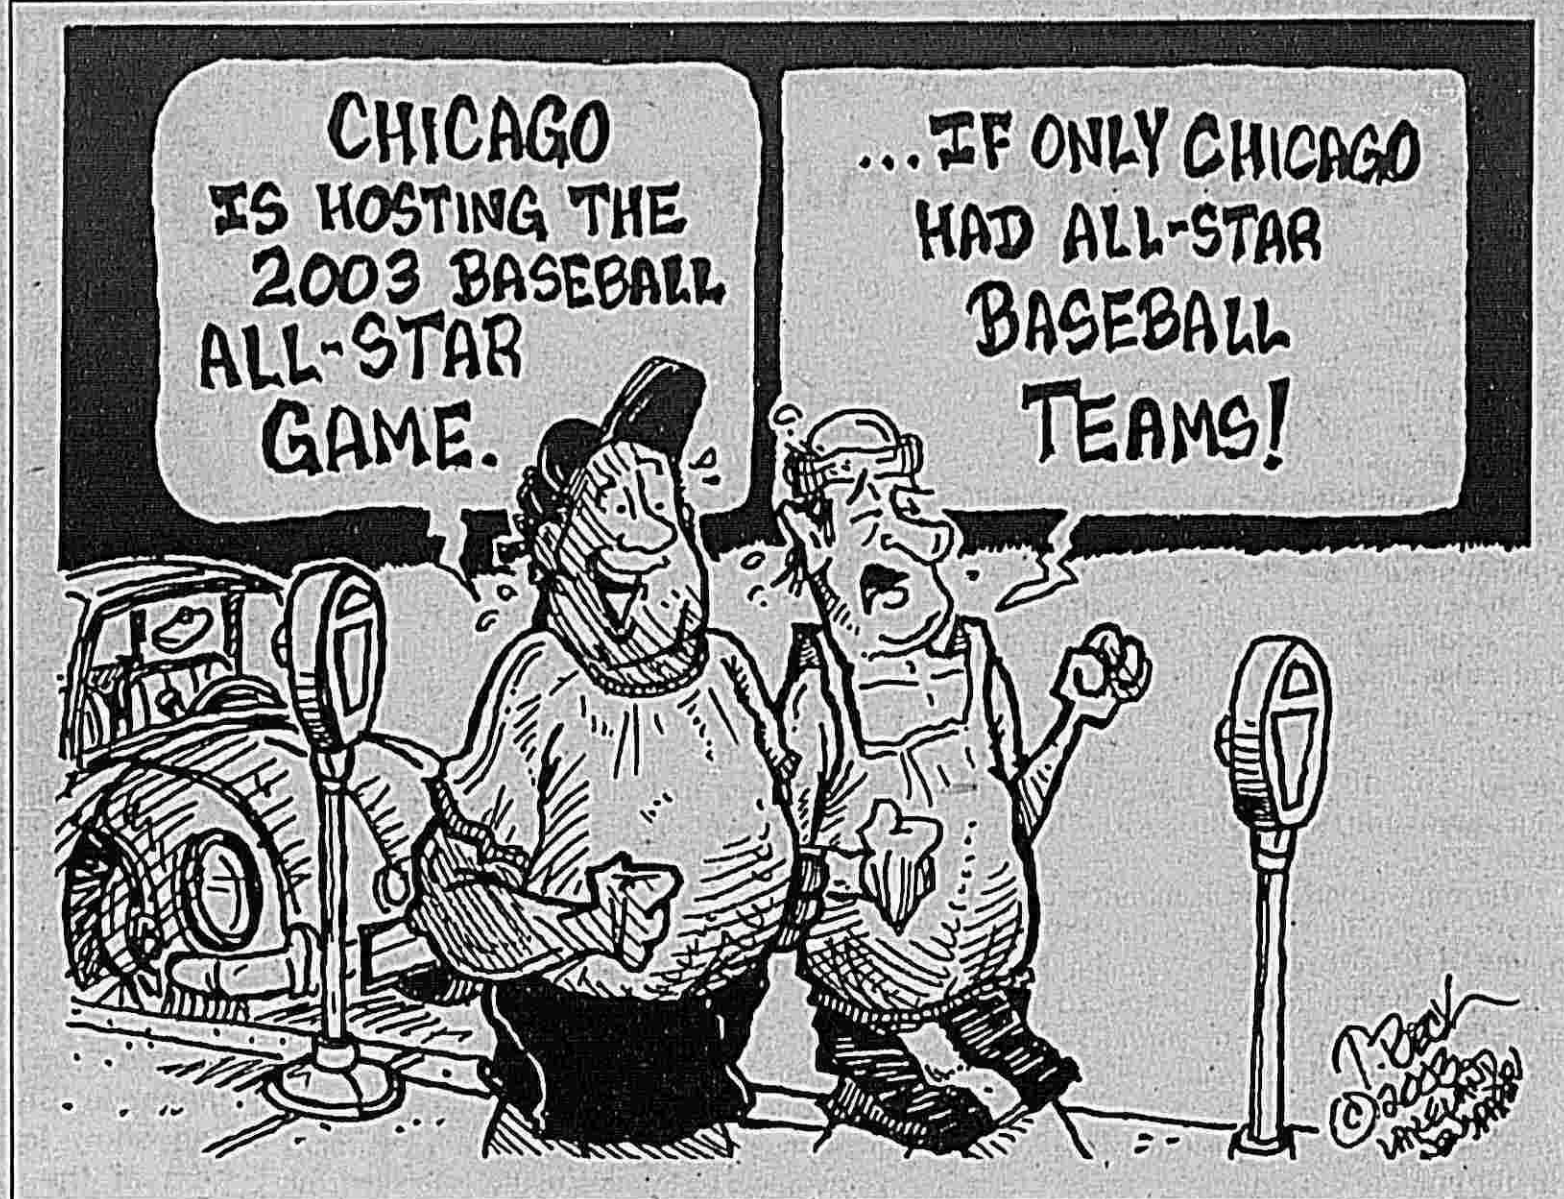

Elitist legal scholars are hailing the Supreme Court for giving credence to Constitutional protection to privacy as being in tune with the times. But just the opposite seems to be the case when public safety is at issue. Under the pressure of enforcing gun and drug laws, Americans are giving up bits and pieces of their personal freedom—willingly.

While citizens can expect greater freedom for sexual expression in the privacy of their homes, they continue to face further erosion of rights in public activity like random drug testing and search in the work place, and anti-smoking ordinances where they are employed and where they dine.

School, particularly, is a place where society tolerates heightened vigilance of individual behavior. Police involvement in security and inspection, though, still is questioned sometimes. Antioch High School officials last year challenged a police department initiative to check student lockers for drugs with the help of a drug sniffing dog, accusing police of "over-reaching." After protracted negotiations, a memorandum of understanding was written allowing periodic inspections.

Antioch Police Chief Chuck Fagan, previously a high ranking officer in the Lake County Sheriff's office, pointed out that "locker sweeps" are common practice in local schools. Also common is policy permitting random drug testing of students involved in extra-curricular activity.

While the public frequently is seen as ambivalent in attitudes toward freedom, public policy reflects the conflicting mood, adding to and taking away personal freedom—at the same time.

VIEWPOINT

Pfarr Corner close to perfect

In his first piece for Lakeland Newspapers six years ago, columnist Jerry Pfarr signaled what amounted to a call to action for a self-professed "newspaper junkie" who was experiencing unintended retirement.

"Call me old-fashioned but I think every town deserves its own up-close and personal paper. Lakeland Newspapers is seeing to that in Lake County." In his own way, Jerry captured the essence of community journalism. After more than 300 columns, pancreatic cancer silenced a thoughtful family man, a consummate newspaper pro and a staffer with an eminently personal style who kept close to Lakeland readers even when he started every column from the Pfarr Corner.

As a modest person with a self-deprecating style, Jerry would have considered it an embarrassing stretch to claim that he never wrote a bad column. But he didn't, in the opinion of the guy who served as his editor since March 21, 1997, when he joined Lakeland and we began sharing space in the editorial section of Lakeland Newspapers.

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

While battling cancer early this year, Jerry continued writing his column, sharing his wry wit, offering his perception of everyday life and thoughts about living among people treasured as friends and neighbors. He had a special knack for finding quotes from famous personalities that fit the situation. The columns were better than ever despite the fact that treatments sapped his strength. Jerry's devotion to his family, this newspaper and his readers proved to be a sustaining factor.

Since he was imbued with the mission of staying close and remaining personal with his reading public, Jerry as a columnist avoided controversy and the sticky matters of life. No politics in Pfarr Corner. At various times in our more than 30 years acquaintance, Jerry and your scribe were friends, colleagues, sports fans, Green Bay Packers devotees. We followed similar paths of getting hooked on newspapering in high school and college, served as military journalists (he in the Navy, your reporter in the Army), learning the reporter's craft at daily newspapers (he in Wisconsin, this writer in Illinois); we shared a high school graduation year and the conviction that out-of-touch classmates are strangers at periodic class reunions. For a brief five years, we were friendly competitors when Jerry tried his hand at publishing. One huge difference. Jerry was an excellent golfer.

Jerry resumed columning in 1997. An editor's note on this page announced that he would be offering Lakeland readers a unique blend of humor, opinion and insight into our end of the world. That he did. We extend condolences to his family. So long, Jerry.

Preserve meeting—setting a bad precedent

There was a lot of fire at the recent annual budget meeting of the Lake County Forest Preserve District. Most of it was caused by the District's insistence to spend millions of dollars to "re-do" the Fort Sheridan Golf Course.

I have gone on record in this column against the outrageous spending needed to "rebuild" the golf course. But, what happened at the budget meeting should be even more disturbing to Lake County taxpayers.

First, and foremost, consider that this was a $116 million dollar budget. Consider also that, under the rules by which the district runs its meetings, commissioners are allowed the opportunity to speak twice, up to three minutes, on each topic.

Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingleside) president of the district, chaired the meeting. I am told that the "pro side" of the golf course issue was allowed over one hour and one-half to "give their side" of the issue. Some of that was by the public, represented by homeowners from the upscale development at Fort Sheridan.

The "con side" had hardly begun to express their opposition when they were silenced by parliamentary tactics encouraged by Carter. I was told by a number of those in attendance that, rather than recognizing those who had a right to speak on the issue she quickly chose to seek out a "calling of the question," which chokes off debate.

I contacted Sandy Cole (R-Grayslake), who I have respected for her diligence at examining budgetary matters. Sandy said that she spoke her allowable three minutes, but also informed the Chair that she wanted to be recognized later on the budget. Bonnie Carter dictatorially denied her right saying that if she wanted to speak she had to do it right then. That was the first hint that Carter was going to "strong-arm" the budget.

Remember again, this isn't peanuts, we're talking $116 million dollars. In short order, Bonnie Thomson Carter recognized a motion to call the question, which passed, and the budget was quickly approved with a 16-6 vote.

Sandy told me that at least "four of us" were waving their arms to speak when the chair pulled the rug on them. Besides her, Commissioners Steve Carlson (R-Gurnee), Randy Whitmore (R-Wadsworth), Dianna O'Kelly (R-Mundelein) and there may have been others she didn't see from her front row seat, wanted to speak.

Sandy's account was corroborated when I spoke to Whitmore. He said, "we were treated shabbily, especially when you consider the length of time given to the other side." He also said, "this was not the time for the district to be spending wildly and they should have at least allowed us to adequately express our concerns."

Again $116 million dollars! I have often said about budgets, "the devil is in the details."

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Powerhouse team targets Manville site

Political lightning has struck with the decision of Illinois Atty. Gen. Lisa Madigan, working with State Sen. Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest) to create a task force to investigate whether asbestos found around the Johns Manville Superfund site in Waukegan creates a public health threat.

Spurred by inquiries made by Garrett, Madigan is calling for the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources, the Illinois Dept. of Public Health, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the City of Waukegan.

If the agencies agree to get further involved, the new inquiry will be a red letter political day for Madigan and Garrett. The attorney general is targeting Illinois Beach State Park frontage on Lake Michigan and public access areas at the Johns Manville site. The park area is 6.5 miles long.

Madigan's predecessor, Republican Jim Ryan, sued Manville in 2001 for alleged violations. The plant has been a superfund site for more than 10 years and has been studied many times.

Volunteer marchers

Congressman Mark Kirk's parade marching volunteers are ready and waiting for future orders for summer events. They "battle tested" Independence day with seven parades throughout the 10th Congressional District that includes southeastern Lake County and the Waukegan area.

Hull heads north

Multi-millionaire Blair Hull, seeking a Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate in the 2004 primary, got as far north as McHenry on his "Working Across Illinois" tour. He spoke at a backyard barbecue at a private residence on the Fox River. Promoting jobs and reducing health care costs are major themes of the tour.

In the booth

Lake County's emerging third party, the Libertarian Party, is committed to a booth at the Lake County Fair opening Tuesday, July 22. Illinois State Executive Director Jeff Trigg has promised to man the booth day hours during the six-day event.

Practice speaking

Recently appointed Coroner Jim Wipper is experiencing a smooth transition in succeeding his former boss, Barbara Richardson. Wipper was the long-time deputy coroner. He says lots of practice will be needed to approach Richardson as a platform speaker. The former coroner was noted for heart-tugging talks in explaining the human side of the office often dealing with violence and tragedy.

No retirement

Ed Gonwa, former head of the Lake County Regional Office of Education, didn't stay idle long after turning the reins over to his assistant of nine years, Roycealee Wood. After attending her swearing in ceremony July 1, he started his new post as a key aide at Lake County University Center. The four-year degree facility has temporary headquarters at the Grayslake campus of College of Lake County where the permanent home of LCUC will be built.

No time limit

Long-time Democratic political leader John Balen, now a member of the Waukegan City Council, is wondering whether he is out of touch or has lost his touch. Balen offered a motion to move along lengthy council sessions by limiting audience discussion to three minutes per person. He didn't get a glimmer of a second from fellow council members.

New CEO on job

Man with a mission and a name to match, Dennis Stonewall is taking over as chief executive officer of the troubled Round Lake Unit School District. Appointed by the State Financial Authority, Stonewall hails from downstate Danville. Top executives of the district answer to the Financial Authority, not the local board of education.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Name Game: Combine area villages?

Positive: A combined village of say, 50,000 people will carry a lot of weight in state politics. Grants will be the largest benefit.

Negative: Residents of all villages concerned will take on the financial and political problems of the other villages. Your tax dollars will be dedicated to sewer problems that currently exist in other villages. Your tax dollars will be needed to hire police officers in villages that are currently understaffed. Your tax dollars will be used to fund schools that have nothing to do with your children.

What's in a name? Do we seek to make Lindenhurst and Lake Villa a combined community—they have the same zip code, library and fire department, as we do. No, they have different names, so why bother? Do we look to have North Chicago and Chicago the same? No, there are several towns between them. If Round Lake Beach were named just "Beach" and Round Lake Heights were named just "Heights" and Round Lake Park were named just "Park" and we were named just "Lake" would there be a discussion? I doubt it.

Public duped

Libertyville's John Nickels' excellent idea "For conceal law" cannot work in Illinois without a major change among this State's decision makers.

In the 35 or more states that enacted "concealed carry" firearms laws, violent crime decreased an average ten percent (U. of Chicago Law School statistics).

That fact is ignored in The Land of Lincoln because Illinois has an empty prison and wants to build more. Some convicted killers are paroled after as few as six years. Their continued crimes help Illinois build upon a bloated budget rife with corruption mutually agreed upon between the parties. Higher taxes equals more control over our lives. Crime does pay!

Illinois' leadership rules principally by fear. Voter turnout is led by political indentures of both parties (actually only one party with two names).

Except for U.S. Senator Peter Fitzgerald, our political choices are made long before the polls open. Only the rich and courageous, like Fitzgerald are willing to fight this beast. Real nominations (as opposed to window dressing nominees) are strictly limited to cooperative people whose "trust" is verified beforehand. Even U.S. Rep. Dennis Hastert has turned his back on Fitzgerald for "disloyalty." Denny is a powerful consensus maker who carries out orders well. That's more important than a principled advocate because such leaders get things done—well done.

Sen. Fitzgerald's integrity, ability and independence have made him a vicious target of both parties, because he was strong enough to appoint three uncorrupted U.S. attorneys in Chicago, Peoria and East St. Louis. See how long they last after he's gone! I don't blame him for leaving office after one term. He's seen the light and it's red.

Gun control is a cynical political game. Politicians pass laws.

Enforcement agencies pass enabling regulations that either gut the laws' intent or substantially weaken it. Politicians brag about their accomplishments. Lawyers earn good livings defending both sides.

Bureaucracies remain unknowable. As a veteran of 17 years with the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms' Regulatory Enforcement Division, I've seen it up close and personal. It's regrettable that so many well intentioned people are duped for so long.

Sam slam not funny

I can understand why your cartoonist scribbles his name. Who would be proud to lay claim to such an abominable cartoon of Sammy Sosa.

Only a pea brain would think Sosa needed a corked bat. This record shows other wise. Players admit a corked bat gives NO advantage. Sammy made an honest mistake for which he took punishment.

Of course there are always people who have to put others down. Usually those who are inadequate themselves and need to tear others apart to bolster their ego. Obviously your cartoonist is one of the those. Tearing Sosa down didn't improve his sense of humor. It is STILL inadequate.

Seniors abandoned

I am 76 years old. My wife is 75. Despite our diligent savings and investment discipline to provide for ourselves in our old age, we've been subordinated by our current appointed (not elected) president who has billions for stupid wars and trillions for millionaire's tax relief, but only budget cuts for disabled veterans healthcare and senior Medicare.

Our investment portfolio that we relied on for nearly one-third of our income has taken a nearly 40 percent hit during Bush's three-year administration. Further his protective policy for the oil and gas industry cost us over $600 in just two months this past winter for natural gas heat.

Gasoline prices have averaged $1.60 per gallon, our so-called supplementary health insurance is over $500 per month and prescription medicine over $1 a pill. Of course we did get a huge 1.8 percent (raise) from our Social Security payment to help pay for these magnificent golden Republican years.

Then to put the frosting on the cake we get the good news from Lake County property tax body. I wrote Doris Weidner, our Wauconda township assessor, in January asking for relief from the infamous "blue card" re-assessment notification. She conveniently waited to send her reply dated April 21, as expected it was "no deal." This of course, was long after the official complaint deadline had expired.

Catch 22. "We only assess—we have no control over taxes." "You have been under-assessed for years." No mention of the fact that it was she that did the assessment and that it was increased every year.

Then we were told to apply for freeze, but only if your income is under $40,000. By Lake County standards—no provision for cost of living exemptions which are allowed by both State of Illinois and Federal IRS standards.

Dangerous permit

The Village of Wauconda has requested a new permit for the waste water treatment plant. I have also just learned that some time ago, the Village of Wauconda submitted an application for a Disinfection Exemption and it was granted by the IEPA.

I cannot understand how the IEPA could grant such an exemption. I live in a subdivision which overlooks Fiddle Creek. There are over 80 homes in our subdivision and we are next to this creek.

Many of us hike in these wetlands and the children of our subdivision are constantly playing in and along the banks of this creek. We use these wetlands on a year-round basis and we are shocked that the IEPA ever granted a disinfection permit without notifying the residents.

SEEING

Could it be that Sandy Cole et al were about "to expose the devilish details" and Bonnie Carter and others wanted no part of it? Haven't the advocates to spend outlandish sums to rebuild the Fort Sheridan golf course said all along that the monies would be totally from "user fees," and not taxpayer funds?

Were some of those "raising hands" seeking recognition to offer an amendment to transfer $250,000 out of the General Fund to the Revenue and Enterprise Fund? That is the amount paid to the Director and Associate Director whose primary responsibilities are to manage the District golf facilities. Taxpayers pay those salaries, not user fees. Could it be that Bonnie Thomson Carter and others didn't want to vote on the amendment that would show that "golfers' fees don't pay for the whole package?"

I have written this column because I don't want the district or the County Board "to go back to the old days" when members were silenced by the chair. Steve Carlson said to me, "It's a bad precedent to set, cutting off members who want to be heard." He is right. All of the members of the Lake County Forest Preserve District are elected by the public. They are responsible for the fiscal health of the district. They should not be muzzled, on budgetary matters, or other issues of the public interest.

Let us hope that the recent budget meeting is the final chapter in ram-rod parliamentary tactics and all elected voices on all sides be given the full opportunity to speak their minds.

The rest of the milk story or, don't believe everything on television!

Until I heard about the two Tampa, Florida, Fox News reporters who were fired for their reluctance to falsify information about the widespread use of bovine growth hormone in dairy cows, I never realized that consuming milk could present significant health risks. In addition to not tasting the same as it did when I was a kid, the majority of the milk brands that line the supermarket shelves are no longer the way nature intended milk to be. That's because the milk now comes from cows injected with a genetically engineered growth hormone that forces cows to produce more milk. As a result, milk is chemically and nutritionally very different from natural milk.

I got a big response from last week's column about the Monsanto Company's recombinant bovine growth hormone (rBGH) in their trade-named product, Posilac, a variant of a natural growth hormone produced by cows. This laboratory production, also known as recombinant bovine somatotropin or rBST that is sold to dairy farmers and injected into cows is very profitable because it increases milk output by about 10 percent. The problem, according to many reports, is that it hasn't been proven safe for human consumption. This is in spite of the fact that the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) insists that Posilac is indistinguishable from natural milk and safe to cows and consumers.

What investigative journalists, Jane Akre and her husband, Steve Wilson attempted to do was expose the fact that the manufactured bovine growth hormone makes cows sick. In addition, the FDA approved it without adequate tests to show its effects on people. Monsanto has actually admitted to about 20 veterinary health risks that are on its Posilac label. These include mastitis and udder inflammation. As a result, rBGH milk is contaminated with pus from the mastitis and the antibiotics that are used to treat the mastitis. That doesn't sound very appetizing, does it?

ON CALL

Other issues include the fact that rBGH milk contains high levels of a natural growth factor (IGF-1) that in excessive levels have been implicated as a major cause of breast, colon and prostate cancers. The chemically treated milk also contains a "GE" hormone that can be absorbed through the gut and induce adverse immunological effects. It makes one wonder how this unnatural growth hormone that is banned throughout Europe and unapproved in several other countries because of human health concerns can be approved for use in our country.

In a story revealing the details of Jane Akre and her husband's firing from Fox News, and Akre's lawsuit against the network that followed, she states, "Only Monsanto really knows how many U.S. farmers are presently using rBGH, which is reportedly now injected into more than 30 percent of America's dairy herd. The company persistently refuses to release sales figures, but claims it has now become the largest-selling dairy drug in America. The chemical giant's secretive operations are part of what made the story of rBGH such a compelling one for me to explore as an investigative reporter." What followed, of course, was the pressure put on Fox by Monsanto to not air the story, and the station's bowing to the political and financial pressure of the threat of a lawsuit by Monsanto.

As a columnist lucky enough to be writing for an independent news medium, I have more freedom to reveal the researched facts that perhaps may result in more than a few of my readers changing their buying predilections.

I have researched alternative sources for dairy products that are labeled organic and/or other companies who sell milk free of rBGH. Two popular brands that claim to be organic are Horizon and Stonely Field. Oberweis, with corporate headquarters in North Aurora, while not claiming to be organic, nevertheless, manufactures milk products only from rBGH free cows.

I was privileged to talk to both Mark Vance, the Director of Marketing and Bob Renaut, President and CEO of the North Aurora based Oberweis Dairy Company. Mr. Vance reminded me when I told him how I prefer milk in a glass bottle, that the glass bottle was just part of the story. "It's what goes into the bottle that makes the difference." When it comes to injecting cows with rBGH, Vance stated, "It's because 'we and many of our customers oppose the use of it, we pay our farmers a premium not to use it.'"

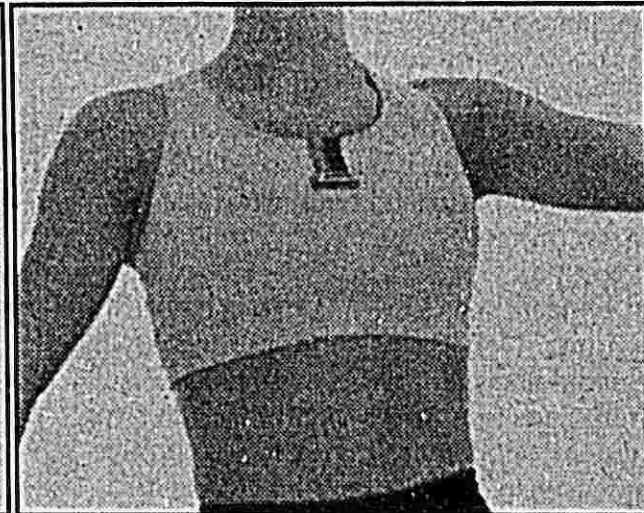

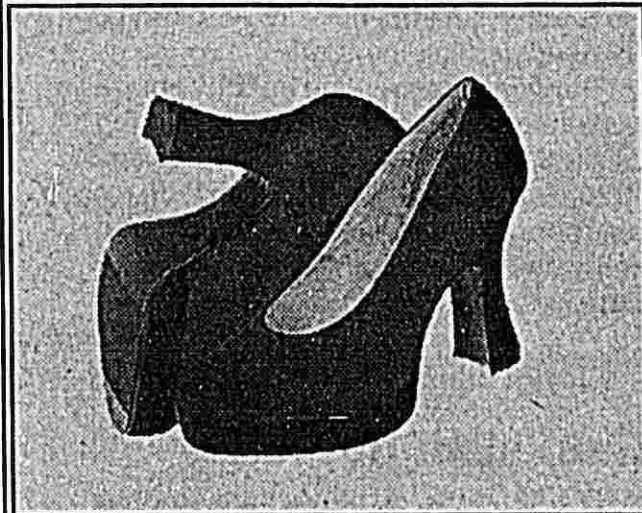

In addition, healthy and good tasting milk goes beyond the artificial growth hormone. There's the healthy and comfortable environment that the small family farms that work exclusively with Oberweis have. Averaging about 150 cows, a fraction of the milk factories that have as many as 3-5,000, Oberweis cows are not hooked up to milking machines. Vance told me, "Happy cows give good milk." I like that!

Mr. Renaut explained that while Oberweis doesn't claim to be organic only because their farmers cannot certify that they use organic feed 100 percent of the time, "all other aspects of organic certification are being met by our producers". He told me that Oberweis milk contains a very low somatic cell count. Somatic cells are the "dead" cells present in milk and are a measure of the health of the cow. State law allows 750,000 SCC per ml in raw milk. "Our milk can only have a maximum of 250,000 SCC per ml, and most of our producers are in the 100,000 to 150,000 range. We pay our farmers a substantial premium to achieve low somatic cell counts."

What makes good sense to me is that the lower the somatic cell count, the better the milk tastes. So without making my column an advertisement for Oberweis, it is in my opinion that their milk tastes good, and their ice cream is, well, maybe you should try it. You may find a major difference in comparison to milk from a cow with mastitis as a result of being injected with growth hormone and then shot with antibiotics.

Now, getting back to the two fired Fox Television reporters and the lawsuit filed by Jane Akre against the network, Akre was originally awarded a settlement of $425,000. Then, on Feb. 14 of this year, Fox won their appeal. The jury verdict in favor of the journalist was reversed. The Florida Appeals court ruled there is absolutely nothing illegal about lying, concealing or distorting information by a major press organization. Essentially, the ruling declares it was not against any law, rule, or regulation for Fox to deliberately lie, prevaricate or distort the facts about rBGH injected cows' milk on a television broadcast. Utterly amazing, isn't it?

Is waiting until 4 years old to start preschool too long?

Hi Dr. Singer,

Our daughter is 3 years old and we are getting all kinds of flack from family and neighbors that she should be in day care or preschool by now. I am a stay at home mom and I don't want to put her in any of that until she is 4 with the thought of Kindergarten at 5. Everyone is telling me that I am hurting her chances by making her wait and that she will be less developed than other kids if I wait until 4. I disagree and feel that she needs the family and home influence longer. Which do you believe in more? S.S.

Hi S.S.,

First I will say the required: it has to be every parent's own thought process and choice that is good for their child. You could consult 10 different experts who would tell you 10 different things. It still comes down to the parent's comfort level and intuition. With that said, I will tell you that my parents had me start preschool at 4. There was no day care or preschool before that. I think I turned out fine. I hold a Doctorate and have gone pretty far in my life. Am I saying that holding kids from starting until they are 4 is what did that? Maybe, maybe not. I think that regardless of when a child starts preschool, if that child has a lot of mental stimulation by those around him or her, that is truly the ticket.

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

There are pro's and con's to both sides. Staying home longer gives a child more influence from family. You are the primary source of information, morals, values, etc. Sometimes I have heard parents say that they worry about who is influencing their child too young and what that will do. I also have concerns about that. On the other hand, children in daycare and preschool are getting the benefit of early socialization with other kids. It really just depends on what experience you want for your child.

The other thing I am finding with lots of people lately, especially after September 11th (and I feel it myself) is that many people are wanting to spend as much time possible with their kids, and competition and school has become less of a priority. This may sound strange coming from a person who trains kids to pay attention better for a healthy competitive edge, but I think the experience of life is to be cherished and doing well in school and work is only one aspect of anyone's life. Love and family and play and fun are also part of that experience and should be. Whether someone starts their child at 2 or at 4, they need to check their reasons. If it is out of necessity, that is fine. If it is out of desire for socialization, that is fine. I get my biggest concern from those who do it early so their child can become the CEO of any company he or she wants because of the early start. I want my child to do well, but I am not interested in her starting a treadmill early so she can take 1st place in the proverbial "rat race." If she takes 6th or 7th and is happy and relaxed, I will be happier.

Not all parents have the option of having their child stay home as long as they want. For those who have to put their child in earlier than they want to, make sure you thoroughly check the facility you are using and make sure that their philosophies are in the same camp yours are so you can be sure that the child is getting the messages you want him or her to get.

Regarding skills, you can do lots of things together at home that will build her skills, so don't worry about that part. Just don't plop her down in front of the t.v. and expect that her skills will improve. That won't do it!

Regarding socialization, neighborhood kids, cousins, parent-child play groups are all great and can provide lots of stimulation.

I think that whichever way you do it, your child will not sustain any damage. If you are adamant about having your child stay home until 4, respectfully tell your friends to cool it. You do not need to explain yourself. It is your decision to make and it is not necessarily a bad decision. Always do what you think is right and you cannot lose!

Seniors May Find Proposed Drug Benefit Lacking

AS REPORTED IN THE JUNE 18TH NEW YORK TIMES...

Seniors expecting a generous Medicare prescription drug benefit from Congress are likely to be disappointed. Most will find the government paying only a small fraction of their pharmacy bills and far less than most senior citizens have come to expect from private insurance.

According to the former Director of the Congressional Budget Office Robert Reischauer, "I think many will be disappointed because the benefit is so skimpy compared to that most Americans are familiar with."

Both House and Senate bills would require senior citizens to spend a significant amount of their own money in order to receive government benefits. Coverage would disappear after drug costs reached a certain level and then resume only if costs reached a considerably higher plateau.

What's The Answer For Now?

On the other side of the coin, beginning July 1, there is a local Lake County company, Save On Meds, which is fighting to keep prescription medication costs to a minimum. Their mission is to provide an alternative safe and reliable method of securing prescription medications from Canada at reasonable prices. Save On Meds wants to be your advocate for prescription drug savings.

Change the look of your bathroom to reflect the four seasons

A few simple tips for changing the look of your powder room to reflect the four seasons

You do a red, white and blue theme for the Fourth of July and decorate with bunnies and plastic eggs for Easter ... obviously, you're the type of person who loves the holidays and making your home festive. You've got the holidays covered, but did you ever think about changing your bath's look with the change of the seasons?

"We all go to great lengths to give our homes a fresh look for the holidays, but the one room that gets the most traffic typically receives the least attention," said Sharon Hanby-Robie, who has appeared on NBC's "Today Show" and is the author of the "My Name Isn't Martha" series of books. "Due to the small size of most powder rooms or non master baths, many homeowners don't realize they can make a significant decorating impact with little time and expense, and can change out the look every season so that it never gets old."

Soft Goods

Consider adding a new color scheme to the room using soft goods. For example, new towels, a new shower curtain or throw rugs in seasonal colors will make a huge statement in the room. Each season retailers roll out items such as a florals with light pinks, greens and blues for the spring or paisley designs in oranges, golds and browns for the fall. Perhaps there are even tropical fish shower curtains to help fit in with the warmer summer months.

You can even enhance your current window treatments with tiebacks in colors of the season. Check you local fabric store for patterns in seasonal colors or themes that might be just the thing to put a seasonal touch on the room. You won't believe what a difference a change in soft goods can do to get you in the spirit of the season.

Accessories

Another place where changes in the powder room can be made inexpensively is in accessories such as toothbrush holders, soap dishes and drinking cups. These items also come in a host of different colors that can be matched to the hues of the season. With so many styles of accessories available today, why not have some fun changing from a modern look in the summer to a traditional look in the winter. You may even consider new towel bars and robe hooks to complete the look of the room. Seasonal variations can keep the room from looking tired and help you make the leap from season to season.

Faucets

One component of the bath not normally considered for seasonal changes, but one that certainly shouldn't be overlooked is the faucet. Moen has made it quick and easy to change for the seasons with its decorative line of Asceri Accents. These faucet "accent" pieces allow homeowners to change their faucet's look by screwing off the old trim and screwing on the new from above the sink deck — all in just minutes.

Recently, the company added to its Accents collection by having student members of the American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) submit designs in the "Accent on Design" contest. The contest, open to more than 8,000 ASID students nationwide, produced some cutting-edge seasonal designs for fall, summer, winter and spring.

The grand prizewinner, Elaine Dominguez of West Nyack, N.Y., created a design for fall inspired by the 1970s look in fashion, including love beads, florals and geometric patterns. In the spring category, Emily Black of Chicago, Ill., produced a winning design featuring flowing willows with lilac brushstrokes running through the background.

Dominguez also claimed top honors in the contest's summer category with a faucet design that picks up on the current bath craze of mosaic tiles in cool blues inspired by water. In the final design category, winter, Karen Ann Davis of Houston, Texas, provided a design with soft blues that mimic falling snow.

The grand prizewinner's design will be available for consumers later this year. This new design adds to the 10 already existing Asceri Accents that the company offers from traditional chinas to florals and wild animal prints -- there is something to complement every season ... and every bathroom.

Scents of the Season

Consider adding a few arrangements of fresh flowers to your bath in the spring, fresh lavender in the summer, a few cornstalks in the fall, or a pine wreath in the winter. We identify certain smells with seasons and being able to bring that aroma into the bathroom will help complete a seasonal transformation. Further spruce up the bath with by arranging candles and scented potpourri around the room. Make sure these items have a tie to the season -- in the spring, buy candles with fresh spring scents in light pinks, blues, purples and greens, while in the winter look for jewel tones such as emerald green, burgundy and navy in heavier scents.

Personalize the Space

If you don't already have one, hang a small shelf in your bath to hold items that will make the powder room truly your own. Purchase some new picture frames in the latest color of the season and change out the photos as the season's change. For summer, show off your latest vacation photos or in the winter display family holiday photos. Shots of the kids at the beach or in last year's Halloween costumes make great seasonal statements.

Use this space to also display seasonal decorations. For summer decorate with sea shells and kids' sand pails, for winter, change the look by having snowmen sitting in the midst of faux snow. Shelving will also give you added functionality in the room.

Last but not least, baskets have made a big comeback in today's decorating styles. Fill a basket full of items of the season -- pinecones in the winter or potpourri in the fall. Baskets in the bath also can play a functional role in holding towels or toilet tissue.

According to Hanby-Robie, homeowners are always looking for ways to modify their home décor to reflect seasonal changes. "The powder room may not be the first on the list when we think of decorating, but it can leave quite an impression with guests. Remember to continue your spruce-ups into the bath and you'll be surprised at the compliments you receive."

New director

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Lake County announced the hiring of its new executive director, Jim Kales. Kales replaces Harry Nicol, who in 10 years of service created a strong organization dedicated to the personal growth and development of at-risk Lake County youth.

Most recently Kales served as Director of Communications for United Way in Chicago. While at United Way, Kales teamed with local Big Brothers Big Sisters chapters to launch Chicagoland's first-ever "National Mentoring Month." This large public outreach effort brought together more than 15 area youth agencies to raise awareness about the importance of mentoring.

Student selected as assistant producer

Carmel High School announced that Peter Scalzitti, who will be a senior, has been invited to participate in the 29th Annual Illinois High School Theatre Festival. This year's production will be The Arabian Nights. Scalzitti was one of more than 250 students in Illinois who applied, and will assume the role of assistant producer as well as understudy all the male roles. This production will be presented Jan. 8-10, 2004 at Illinois State University in Normal.

YWCA gets grant

The YWCA of Lake County has received a one-year grant from the National Center on Poverty Law in Chicago to offer the Your Money & Your Life financial education program to low-income individuals in the YWCA's service area. Offered nine times until March 2004, the YWCA expects to enroll close to 100 qualifying residents in the course.

Your Money & Your Life is a 12-hour course curriculum that focuses on teaching individuals the skills they need in order to make sound financial decisions. It includes classes on topics such as making spending decisions, checking account management and understanding job benefits. For more information, about session times and locations, contact the YWCA of Lake County, at 847-662-4247.

Golf and luau

Tickets and reservations are currently available for Literacy Volunteers of Lake County's Golf and Luau Aug. 10, at 2 p.m. The first-time event, offering an authentic Hawaiian show and menu, will be held at the Heather Ridge Golf Course in Gurnee. The golf outing features a Best Ball and 9-Hole Tournament. Tickets prices are $50 per person for the golf outing or $100 for both golf and luau. Tickets for just the dinner and Hawaiian show are also $50 per person.

Deadline for reservations is Aug. 1 and tickets may be purchased by calling Mike Mattson at 847-244-1855 or the Adult Learning and Technology Center at 847-360-8600.

Volunteer opportunities for Lake County Fair

The Lake County Fair Association is looking for volunteers to lend a helping-hand at the 2003 Lake County Fair 75th Anniversary Celebration.

Positions are available for the information booth, souvenir booth, fair office, exhibit building and 75th anniversary prize giveaway tent. Shifts are typically four hours and are available from 10 a.m.-11 p.m., Tuesday, July 22 through Sunday, July 27. Volunteers receive free admission to the fair for the days worked, a complementary fair volunteer T-shirt and $5 in meal tickets. Volunteers must be 16 years or older.

For more information, visit www.lake-countyfairassoc.com or call the fair office at 847-223-2204.

Outstanding volunteer

Officer Dave Thomas of the Lake Bluff Police Department has been named Special Olympics Illinois Outstanding Volunteer of the Year. Officer Thomas accepted the honor at a reception held before the State Summer Games held at Illinois State University in Normal.

He was nominated and then selected by a committee to determine which nominee's voluntary efforts improve the quality of the Special Olympics Illinois program to benefit all aspects of the organization.

For more than 13 years, Thomas has dedicated his time to Special Olympics Illinois in many ways. He is a very active member of the Illinois Law Enforcement Torch Run Committee and is a Leg Leader of Legs 6 and 6A, both of North Suburban Chicago. While leading Leg 6, Thomas recruited nine new Torch Run departments and created Leg 6A. His legs and department have raised a considerable amount of money and have won several awards.

Were you a fair queen?

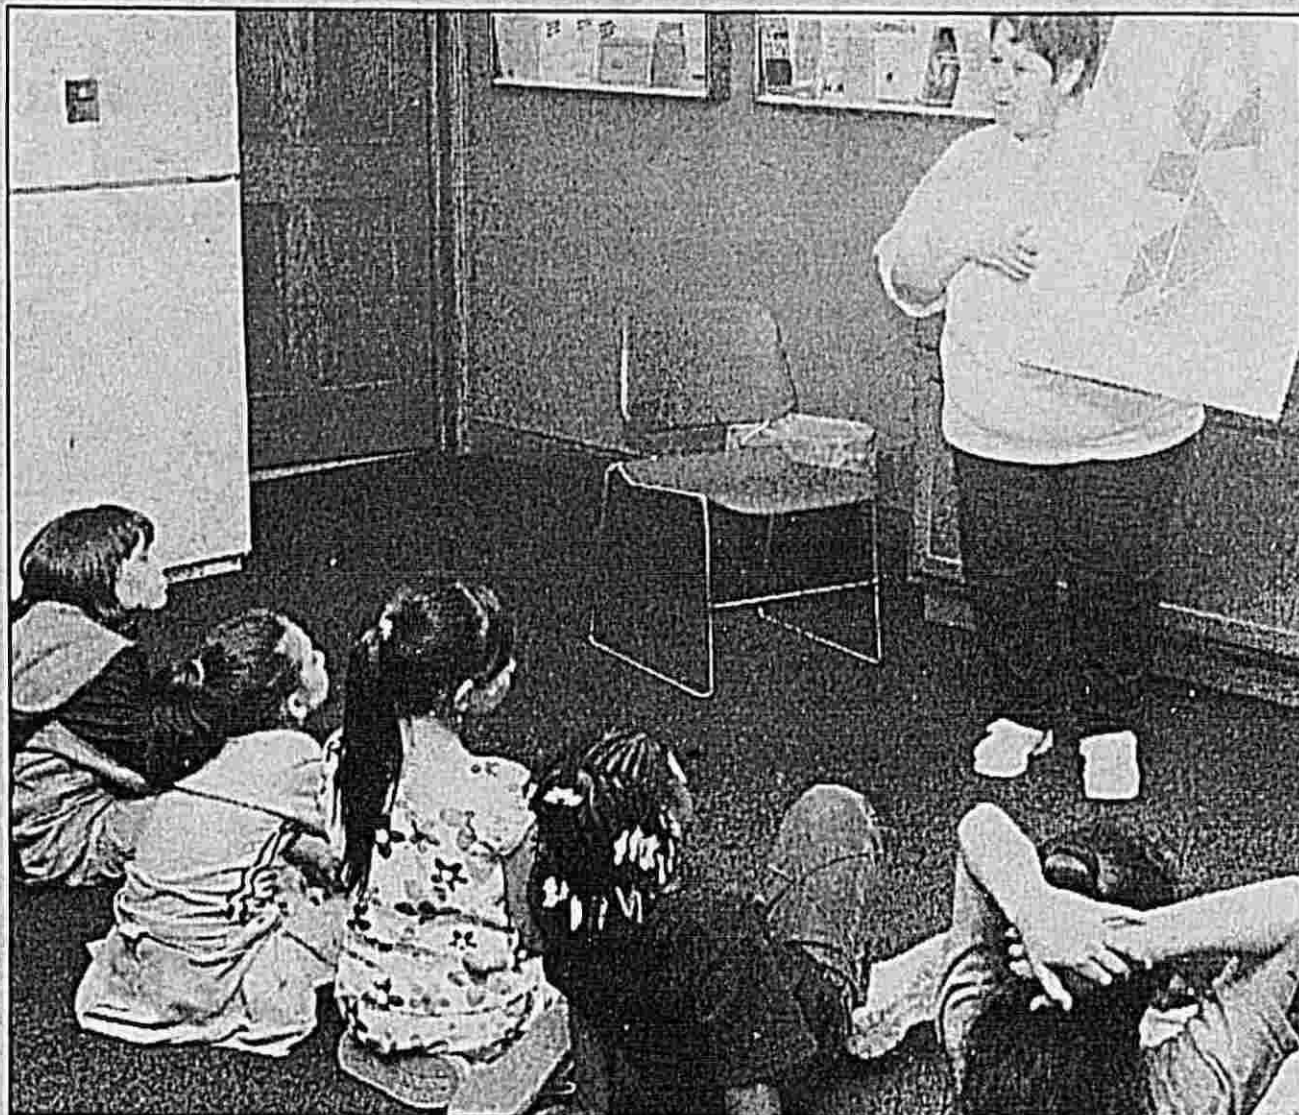

In celebration of the Lake County Fair's 75th anniversary, the pageant program is encouraging past Fair Queens of all age categories to visit this year's Miss Pageant on Tuesday, July 22. They will be introduced on stage in a special segment of the contest. "The Fair has created a history book in honor of its special year and researching the Queen contest for the publication has been fun and interesting," says Darlene Cankar, assistant pageant director. The Miss contest dates back to 1959 with JoAnne Bielat of Libertyville winning a crown made of cardboard. "Fortunately, we know that JoAnne still resides in Libertyville and have been able to invite her to the pageant, but many queens from the past have married and changed their last names, making inviting them personally to the pageant very difficult," adds Cankar. Past Fair Queens, or anyone with information about the location of a Queen, are asked to notify Darlene Cankar at 847-265-2717. Information on obtaining the Fair's celebratory history book is available from the Lake County Fair Association at 847-223-2204.

4-H public speaking, food stations

On July 12, 4-H members will be judged on public speaking. Speech styles will include formal speech, extempore speaking, oral interpretation, original works and food demonstrations. Presentations vary in time length from 3-10 minutes.

Food skill stations are new to 4-H fair judging this year. Members will be evaluated in four of 12 food preparation techniques.

Judging begins at 9 a.m. for food skill stations and 1 p.m. for public speaking held at the University of Illinois Extension located at 100 S. Highway 45 in Grayslake. The public is welcome.

Ryg, Link announce town meeting

State Representative Kathy Ryg (D-Vernon Hills) and State Senator Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) will be holding a town hall meeting for residents of North Chicago, Park City and Waukegan at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, July 16, at the Park City Community Center, 3420 Kehm Boulevard.

Ryg and Link will discuss the impact of recently passed legislation. Residents and community leaders will also have an opportunity to discuss concerns and consider solutions to local problems. In addition, residents can learn about state programs and services available to them.

"This is an exciting and effective way for our community to come together and address issues that matter to all of us. These conversations shape my position on current legislation and give me ideas for new bills," said Ryg.

"We're always looking for public input and this meeting is the perfect forum for exchanging ideas," added Link. All residents are strongly encouraged to attend.

Through the years

Fiesta Days began in 1948 as Marine Days. Picnics, community pot-lucks, a Marine Day Queen and aquatic events during these early years were all focused around the Fox River, near the old Pearl Street Bridge. The boat races remembered fondly by many longtime residents were the central feature of early Marine Days.

Years passed, and, by 1958, boat traffic on the Fox River became too heavy to allow boat racing. The name of the festival was changed to Fiesta Days, and games, picnics, music and an afternoon parade replaced the aquatic events. Fun festival, but it needed a refreshed vision, excitement and timely change.

Thus began the Frank E. Low era, an era lasting for more than 20 years. Low was the inspiration behind the first Drum Corps Magic Show, featuring many drum corps from all over the country, but especially the beloved McHenry Viscounts. New activities were brought in and old activities were given new life during this time often called "the turbulent '60s and '70s." The community owes much to this man, and later his sons, for keeping this festival alive during difficult times.

The people involved in Fiesta Days have changed through the years. Events have been added, but one aspect of Fiesta Days remains the same. It draws the community together. High school class reunions are planned around this celebration. Families, service groups and companies gather to enjoy and participate in events, such as kid's night, volleyball tournament, plywood boat challenge and the parade. Old friends meet new friends, establishing and re-establishing important relationships.

Fiesta Days is an essential ingredient of, what in the words of Frank E. Low, has "made McHenry a good place in which to live, work and play." The simple key to future Fiesta Days, says this visionary? It's simple. After the last band is finished, the concessions are gone and the parade is over, the community says, "We all had a good time!"

On Independence Day everyone's a winner at Wilmot

Brian Kristan of Beach Park captured his second straight winged outlaw sprint car feature to highlight the Independence Day Weekend Spectacular at Local Motion Entertainment's Wilmot Speedway one-third mile clay oval. Meanwhile Nick Simons of Genoa City scored a hotly contested victory in the 20-lap IMCA modified feature and South Beloit's William Grolean won his first feature ever as he drove his El Camino to victory in the 10-lap hobby stock main event.

Tom Brown of Wonder Lake also scored his first ever mini-sprint feature, while Beach Park's Doug Juhrend posted a historic victory in the debut of the new Basic International Cars (BIC) 4-cylinder class feature.

"This is where I grew up and learned about racing. This is my home track and always will be. I'm going to do anything I can to ensure that racing continues here and whenever I can, I will be here," said Kristan, a second generation winged warrior who campaigns regularly with the traveling Interstate Racing Association (IRA) series. "The IRA is off next Saturday (July 12) and we'll be here again. I love running on this race track and for these fans. I hope they all come back and bring their friends with them."

In the feature race, Rick Kelsey took the initial lead in the sprint main, only to sustain a flat tire on lap three coasting into the pits and out of contention. Davis, who started sixth in the field, took over the lead with Kristan, who started alongside him in fifth, in close pursuit.

Kristan and Kelsey battled wing to wing for several laps until a front support on Davis' front wing broke. The two had swapped the lead several times with Kristan in front on lap 11 as the caution flag flew for Davis' front wing as it finally broke loose, landing on the track. Davis restarted on the rear of the field for causing the yellow, then went flying over the berm in turn one, road along the bottom and came back up and over the berm again in turn two. An apparent broken brake line was Davis' problem as he coasted into the pits in turn three.

Bill Wirth closed on the leader as the laps wound down in the 20-lap event, but did not have quite enough to catch Kristan. At the checkered flag it was Kristan, Craig Hemmen, Dan Duffield and Joe Palmisano in the top-5. For the last three, it was their season best finishes.

"That was exciting," said Nick Simons of his IMCA modified win. "I knew Scott (Kuxhouse) was right there, and I knew others were coming because I could hear the motors. I have to thank the fans for supporting us, my sponsors, crew, and the other drivers who make it hard to win here, but a lot of fun."

Mike Simons II, Nick's older brother, jumped out in front at the drop of the green with Nick in tow. The two battled side-by-side several laps all of the way around the one-third mile oval. A caution on lap 6 slowed the progress, with Scott Kuxhouse working his way up from 10th starting position into the top five just prior to the yellow flag.

Mike Simons maintained the lead with his brother and Kuxhouse making it a three-way battle up front for several laps as the trio occasionally went three-wide in the turns. Nick Simons then shot to the inside in turn two on lap 13 as his brother drifted just high enough to the outside.

Just as the trio was beginning to encounter traffic on lap 16, Kuxhouse shot to the high side down the front straightaway, taking the lead. A spin in turn two as the leaders came around brought out the final yellow flag. Kuxhouse's pass was erased according to racing rules, putting N. Simons back in front, setting up a dash to the finish.

Nick Simons was up to the stiff challenges from Kuxhouse, Nick's brother, Mike, and a fast-closing Mike Sullivan, who started 12th in the 20-car field. At the finish it was Nick Simons, Kuxhouse, Mike Simons, Sullivan and Ty Webster, who posted a career-best fifth place finish. The front five crossed less than three car lengths apart.

Jim Scanlon took the initial lead in the hobby stock feature, only to have a snapped axle on the second lap retire him to the pits. Grolean inherited the lead, hounded by Netzel and Roe who worked their way up from the back of the field. Grolean was up to the challenge, scoring the win by less than a car length. Netzel, Roe, 16-year-old Todd Hensley and Gary Foster completed the top five.

Brown led flag to flag in the main as heat winner Randy Reed, whose engine has over 35 nights on it, could not muster enough to pull in the leader. Ron Brannam was third and

Nick Sheridan fourth.

Juhrend lead flag to flag with Vladi Vladimirov second despite a valiant effort to catch the front-runner. Randy Schneider was third and Adam Miller wound up finishing fourth.

The BIC 4-cylinder class is a new division that will compete at Wilmot regularly. The rules and the division itself are a cooperative effort with Lake Geneva Raceway promoter Kevin Dawson and Local Motion Entertainment, Inc. co-promoters Gary Brown and Mike Simons. The cars compete weekly on Fridays at Lake Geneva on the asphalt. They now have the opportunity to race a second night on dirt. Rules are available at www.lakegenearaceway.com.

Eight-year-old Eric Fuller from Wauconda was perhaps the biggest winner of the evening. Fuller won the new bicycle courtesy of Antioch Cyclery and Wilmot Speedway in a drawing by "Flying Ed" Rossi, the extreme motorcycle stunt rider who performed twice during the evening. Fuller's name was pulled from among the new "Kids and Racers for Victory!" Club that also made its season debut.

Then, in a special National Anthem ceremony to mark the Nation's birthday, all of the drivers were joined by the children from the stands on the track. They all stood at the top of the turn one berm, with the youngsters receiving miniature US Flags with the driver's autograph on an attached piece of paper. The youngsters who had the feature winning driver's autograph joined them in victory lane for the celebration and photos. Cathy Landgren sang a stirring rendition of the Star Spangled Banner, followed by God Bless America. The miniature flags were presented in memory of all veterans who have served this country and those who have lost their lives defending its freedom.

Wilmot Speedway management announced a new grandstand ticket will be available beginning Sat., July 12. A Family Ticket costing $25 will admit two adults plus as many children ages 15- and-under as they want to bring with them. Divisions slated for action are winged outlaw sprint cars, IMCA modifieds, hobby stocks and the new BIC 4-cylinder class. This is the 52nd consecutive year the facility, located on the Kenosha County Fairgrounds, has operated. It is the first under new promoters Local Motion Entertainment, Inc. Grandstands open at 5 p.m. each race night with the first race scheduled for 7. For latest information contact the 24-hour race line at 262-862-2446 or the web site at www.wilmot-speedway.com.—Mike Babicz

Theme for Grayslake Colts golf outing; support

There's perhaps no better way than to reunite with friends and members of the community than by doing so on the golf course.

Golf courses, in specific golf outings, have a tendency to bring together people you don't see that often, if not at all, at least on a regular basis.

The Grayslake Colts Youth Football & Cheerleading Association has been testament to this very formula.

The association held its 11th annual version of the event last week at Renwood Golf Course in Round Lake Beach.

Though the turnout wasn't as high as in previous years, some 90 or so golfers still managed to help raise close to $5,000 for the Colts organization.

"I heard about the outing from (Pastor) Glen Brauer—he's a good friend and I know him through his church (Lord of Glory in Grayslake)," said Jim O'Connor, playing in his first Colts outing. "Anything for youths is always a priority to me. This was a great time and for a great cause."

Troy Whalen, a member of the Grayslake Park District and head baseball coach at Grayslake High School, was playing in his eighth Colts outing.

"It's great for the community and the Colts organization," said Whalen, who incidentally won one of the grand prizes, a lawnmower, during the raffle following golf. "But it's a great chance to get re-connected with a lot of people. And of course, it's to help the kids. I couldn't have thought of a better way to spend an afternoon."

Colts Director of fund-raising George Gallagher was pleased with the turnout.

"We had great support from everyone, from the coaches at the high school to the middle school administration," said Gallagher. "It's because the kids are all over town. It's a feeder system, as they call it."

Numerous prizes were awarded at the raffle and steak dinner following golf. Joining Whalen as winner of one of the other grand prizes was Grayslake Park District Board Member Ken Ryan, who took home a brand new chainsaw.

Prizes ranged from box seat tickets to a Cubs game to certificates for area restaurants and other businesses.

Waste Management, Rockenbach Chevy, Charcoal Delights, Coca-Cola, Total Image, Pat's Pizza, Glenn & Sons, CarQuest, Last Chance and Family Dentistry in Grayslake served as the main sponsors for the outing.

The Grayslake Colts Football and Cheerleading program was established in 1968.

The Colts mission includes using football, cheerleading and a respect for education to develop strong, smart, responsible and healthy young men and women. They should throw golf in to that equation as well.—John Phelps

Fund-raiser scheduled

The Save-the-Rink golf fund-raiser will be held on Mon., July 14 at Shepherd's Crook Golf Course in Zion. The event will attempt to raise money for Zion's ice skating facility, which according to many Zion faithful is in danger of closing. The ice rink in Zion, which has been in operation for over 30 years, is operated through the Zion Park District.

As for the outing, tickets are $100 per player and include lunch, 18 holes of golf with an electric cart, dinner and various raffles and auction.

Sponsors for the event are in the hopes of raising $50,000. It's reported that the ice rink is in need of $600,000 to replace a faltering refrigeration system.

The park district said it might have to close the ice rink if the necessary money isn't raised by December of this year. For more information or to sign up for the event, please call 847-746-5500.

Tournaments

Grayslake's Kyle Straub tied for 44th with a 309. Mundelein's Tyler Wollberg (312) and Vernon Hills' Eric Johnson (315) also competed and made the cut. Midwest Junior Players Championship

Wauconda graduate and University of Arizona-bound Josh Esler was the highest area finisher at the Midwest Junior Players Championship held at Grand Geneva Spa and Resort last week.

Esler carded a final round even-par 71 to finish with a 54-hole total of 216, placing him 12th. Kinney also turned in another solid tournament, finishing tied for 27th after firing a final round 1-over 72. Kinney's three-day total was 222.

Libertyville's Mike Schachner, who will be a senior this fall, was 33rd at 223. Kevin Wall, headed to Eastern Illinois University this fall, was a teammate of Schach's when Libertyville cruised to the North Suburban and regional titles last fall. Wall posted a three-round total 224 to finish 37th. Vernon Hills' Jon Fredbeck also played decent golf, finishing 74th with a 247.

Schachner also shot a two-round total of 150 the week before to earn alternate status in the U.S. Junior Boy's Amateur tournament to be held the week of July 21-26 at Columbia C.C. in Chevy Chase, Md. Schachner wound up finishing third in the qualifier.

Czech it out; CLC players traveled abroad

By ROB BACKUS
Lakeland Correspondent

After the success of last year's trip to Italy, CLC head baseball coach Gene Hanson decided to lead another American team into Europe, this time to the Czech Republic.

Sponsored by Kansas City-based USA Athletes International, which also sponsored last year's trip, Hanson took 15 players on a 12-day trip to the Czech Republic and Germany.

Unlike last year's trip, which featured players predominantly from Illinois, Hanson's team had players from all across the country, including NY, Fla., Kan., Calif., Texas, Penn. and Ohio.

He also had players from Joliet JC, Oakton CC, and current, former and future CLC players Jason Schuler, Chris Malec, Alex Frank and Jesse Cass.

"The CLC players did really well," Hanson said. "They conducted themselves as gentlemen, they played hard and I'm very proud of them."

In all, Hanson's team played six games, going 3-3 and finishing fourth out of eight teams.

What hurt the team was the loss of two of their top pitchers who were drafted in baseball's June amateur draft and signed, thus negating their amateur status.

"That really hurt our pitching depth," Hanson said. "With them, we could have finished third or second."

In game 1, the team beat Russia 13-0; in game 2, the team lost to a Czech Republic team 8-6; in game 3, the team beat Australia 7-1; in game four, the team lost to Germany 6-2; in game five, the team beat another U.S. team 8-2 and in the third-place game, the team lost to Australia 7-6.

"This trip mirrored last year's trip to Italy," Hanson said. "We were playing a lot of older kids, who had upwards of seven years experience with each other. A lot of them were members of their country's national teams."

Also, like last year's trip, it was rich in culture as the team visited much of Prague, one of the only major European cities not destroyed during World War II, and Munich, where the Dachau concentration camp was once located.

"The trip to Dachau was an emotional experience," Hanson said. "It was really heart-wrenching."

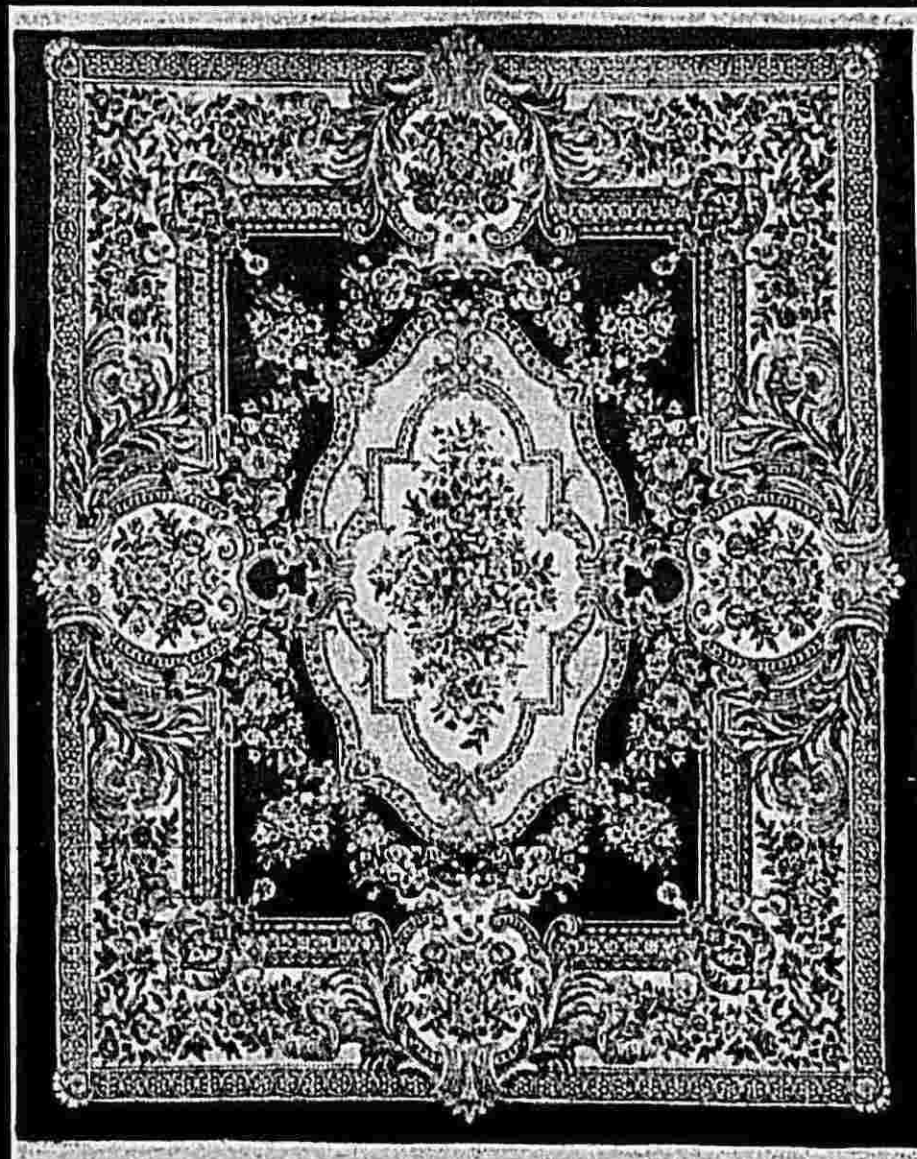

"That's why I like (USA Athletes International). They make it a cultural and athletic trip."

Hanson was also pleased with the baseball portion of the trip.

"It was an outstanding trip," Hanson said. "We were able to play with teams that were much older and had much more experience and we did well athletically."

Hanson intends to lead another team overseas next summer. Possible sites include Belgium, Holland or possibly Australia.

Jerry was a newspaper writer and editor who began his career as sports editor of the Kenosha News from 1954-1963. He retired from the Waukegan News Sun in 1993. In Waukegan at various times he was sports editor, features editor, opinion page editor and a columnist.

After retirement he continued to write a weekly column for the News Sun until it changed management. Then, for the next six years, he wrote the column, "The Pfarr Corner," for Lakeland Newspapers' 11 weekly papers. In sports, Jerry won the Wisconsin State high jump championship in 1947, the year his Kenosha Bradford team won the Wisconsin track and field team title. After high school, Jerry was Marquette University's star high jumper for four years, including winning a Central Collegiate Conference Championship. He was elected to the Kenosha High School Sports Hall of Fame. After his track and field career he became one of the Kenosha area's better amateur golfers, winning a few local tournaments and often placing among the leaders. He enjoyed his 10 years of retirement tremendously, continuing to write his newspaper column and golfing with a great group of friends at Spring Valley Country Club.

She was born Oct. 24, 1925 in Detroit, Mich., the daughter of the late Thomas W. and Pearl (Strode) Pulliam moving to Fox Lake in 1985 and to Trevor, Wis. in 2003. Catherine was a homemaker and loved to swim and fish. She had also worked for the SCM Company of Libertyville. On Dec. 18, 1942, she married Lawrence A. Foster in Champaign, and he preceded her in death on March 11, 1982. On April 18, 1984 she married Major Frank E. Johnson in Kenosha, Wis.

A lifelong Chicago Cubs and Bears fan, he still hoped that the "Cubs would win the pennant again." Known as "Pops" when he attended the games of many semi-pro softball teams in Chicago like the "Bobcats and the Slumlords." The players often referred to him as "their greatest fan." He also had a great sense of humor and winning way with all who knew him, always being "a kidder." Not afraid of adventure, he once attempted to tackle the ski hill riding down it in a large snow shovel, and did. He will be admired and remembered by those who knew him for his gentleman's manner, sharp mind, and quick wit. He was indeed one of the last of the "Tough Guys." He was "The Jenz" like John Wayne was the Duke. Truly an honest man who always saw the right in things and gave the wisdom to do it. Among his last sentiments were his words to "be nice and don't cheat." Always a loving family man who enjoyed the company of his family and their involvement, making it known "he was there for them." He often made it known that "his girls" were everything to him. He will be missed by many who will agree, "That the world was a little happier because he had passed by." "A man of courage to the end."

ATTENTION PET OWNERS We Do Not Knowingly Accept Ads For Free/Giveaway Animals
If you must give up your beloved pet, please consider these suggestions.
*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are imposters and are only concerned about making a profit and not the animal's welfare.
*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

Leave A Job Without Having Another?

By Scott T. Fleischmann

Most job counselors agree that it is best to have another job lined up before leaving a current employer. But that is not always possible. Sometimes employers need to downsize without giving enough notice for all of the employees to find jobs. At other times, employees need to leave employers without having another job.

An example of this situation is illegal activity within the organization. The case of an energy company and an accounting firm could be used as a recent illustration. Some of the employees who knew the details of that illegal activity could have decided to leave the company. Those who stay after they have knowledge of those shenanigans are in danger of prosecution for contributing to the crime.

In a more humorous example there was a small Midwestern technology based company that some years ago decided to give employees the option to buy products through payroll deductions. Unfortunately, they expanded that program to buy illegal drugs through the same process. I would not have wanted to be an employee who was a part of that process when the scheme was uncovered.

There are few situations, other than illegal activity, where leaving a job that pays the bills without having a replacement makes sense. When an employee makes that decision he or she needs to make a commitment to finding a job expeditiously. The first decision one needs to make is whether an interim job is needed. For those who need immediate income, this may be the only option available. However, those who choose this option have the additional burden of learning a new job while searching for the permanent job.

Regardless of how the bills are paid, those searching for a new job need to be dedicated to that process. They need to prepare a resume, find available jobs, complete applications, etc. Those who are working a temporary full time job should expect to spend another 20-30 hours per week searching. Those who do not have a job should spend 50-70 hours per week.

The time commitment will cut into social life, hobbies, favorite television shows and every normal routine. Unfortunately, there are no other options for those who want to work. Those who are independently wealthy are in a different situation. The rest and normalcy will resume when a new job is found.

I recently read an article that was written by two job counselors. They recommended that when an employee decides to make a job change he or she should leave the current job immediately and start the job search. For most of us, this is impractical. However, they made a great observation. Their primary point was that searching for a new job requires full time dedication. Job searches are time consuming. However, only under rare circumstances should one leave a job before having another waiting in the wings. Then, he or she needs to plan for a strenuous and laborious process.

Lake County's ONLY 100% ALL LOCAL Newspapers...

It doesn't get much better than this...

Blue skies, warm temperatures, and the Lake County Fair. How can this not be one of my favorite times of the year?

The world can sometimes move very quickly, technology is changing on a day-to-day basis, and nothing seems to be quite what it used to be. But the one thing that always remains true is the Lake County Fair.

Sure a few changes have been made here and there. The rides seem to be a little faster and higher in the air. And the crowds have grown bigger and bigger. But the basics of the fair, seem to be the same today as they were in 1975—my first year at the fair.

Freshly squeezed lemonade, cows and pigs, corn dogs, apple pies, beauty queens, demolition derby, motocross and wide variety of carnival rides and games.

The Lake County Fair is the one thing you can count on to bring you back to your childhood. And I hope it always does...

Fair history reveals many changes

It has been 75 years since the Lake County Fair started in its current format. The very first Lake County Fair, however, came much earlier in the year 1852. Originating in Waukegan, then moving to Libertyville, back to Waukegan, then back to Libertyville for good, the fair lasted until 1925. The Fair then took a two year break, and came back under a new format in 1928. The Antioch Country Fair underwent a name change in 1928 and became the new Lake County Fair.

This current version of the fair started out in Antioch and stayed there until 1941. After a six year break during World War II, the fair returned to Libertyville's Memorial Field. In 1950 the fair moved to Wauconda, but after only five years it moved to its current location in Grayslake.

The fair started small and has continued to grow ever since. Originating as more of a livestock show than anything else, by 1934 the fair had grown to host large exhibits, band concerts, free shows, rides and games of skill. At this point the annual fee for membership was one dollar and the gate admission price was 25 cents. Exhibitors had to pay a $1.00 fee for a season pass to the fair and entitled them to exhibit 10 entries.

That year of 1934, while marking the beginning of many new traditions, was also the end of another. It was the last year in which the fair was held in the fall, and in 1935 they decided to move it to the summer, around August.

By 1938 the fair had seen a four year jump from $1,500 in total premiums to $3,500 despite costs remaining the same. Besides the increased popularity, more and more classes were being opened for showing. Some classes from the 1938 fair included Dairy Cattle, Sheep, Swine, Poultry & Pigeons, Agricultural Products, Horticulture, Floriculture, Fine Arts, Domestic Arts, Pantry Stores and Education. The fair also boasted a 4-H division with Dairy, Showman's Contest and Herdsman's Contest for sheep, swine, cattle, poultry and record book.

After the only change being the addition of a Horse Class in 1939, 1940 brought forth another large change. The Antioch Country Fair officially changed its name to the Lake County Fair.

The year 1941 brought forth the first year that the fair was held on a Friday, Saturday and Sunday, as opposed to Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The end of 1941 brought our country under attack, and officially put a halt to all fairs during the course of World War II and aftermath.

Once the fair returned in 1948, the Lake County Fair Association began searching for some stability in the location of the fair. The board decided to move the fair to the Wauconda Grade School building, making it more successful in displaying certain products and exhibits.

In 1953 William Chandler became ill and was replaced as president by E. E. Elsbury. These early 50's brought visits from Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, the first Governor from Lake County. While everything seemed to be sailing along smoothly, major change was just on the horizon for the ever growing fair.

1955 brought forth a landmark year for the fair. After increasing exhibitor prices to $3.00 per square foot for rental space, the fair felt one more move was needed. The Lake County Fair Board put Elsbury in charge of finding grounds suitable to hold the fair. At a special Fair Board meeting on April 6, 1955, the members unanimously approved developing 60 acres of land on the corner of Route 45 and Route 120. The fair officially moved into its new home for the 1956 Lake County Fair.

By the 1960's the fair had added a rodeo, three evenings of fireworks, an administrative building, two livestock buildings, three exhibit buildings and an exposition building. Admission to the fair was still 50 cents but an additional 50 cents would be charged for parking. The new rodeo also came with a one dollar charge and the horse and pony shows would also cost an additional 75 cents. By 1963 the fair would raise the prices to 75 cents for admission.

The 60's also boosted the number of days in the fair up to a five day format, going from Wednesday to Sunday. Along with adding a new category of tractor pulling contests. Catching on quickly, the tractor pull jumped from three days to all five days by 1963.

By 1965, the fair just kept growing by finishing construction on a $100,000 building for all the commercial automotive exhibits and dining areas. The paid attendance for that year had climbed all the way up to 20,000. The Fair Board wished to keep growing until the point where they could house all the exhibits in permanent facilities.

The 60's came to a close with the 40th Anniversary in 1968 and several new trophies added to the list of Fair list of prizes. The new trophies awarded everything from Best Horticulture to Cattle and Sheep awards.

The 70's entered with even more expansion and growth for the fair, as the board agreed to purchase 14 more acres of land to the north of the existing grounds for $5,500. Going hand in hand with money being spent was the money the fair would make each year. To boost this, the fair raised admission prices yet again in 1974 up to two dollars per day.

The 70's also kick-started one of the Lake County Fair's most popular aspects, as 1971 hosted the very first Demolition Derby put on by Cavalcade of Thrills.

Miss Fair Contestants

The fair's incredible growth since its early beginnings, started growing to a national level in 1976. A steer put up for auction that year by Mike Grinnell became one of the three top animals sold at an auction in the U.S. that year. The Black Angus steer totaled 1,065 pounds, and was first sold to Premier Banks of Illinois for $10 per pound and then resold to Peter Baker and Sons for $4.60 per pound, totaling $15,549 for Grinnell.

By 1978 the 50th Anniversary came, and much of the fair's growth was put into perspective. Starting out moving from town to town, then finding a permanent residence, all the way to erecting 18 buildings on that land by the 50th Anniversary.

The next 25 years of the fair would follow in the footsteps of the first 50, by simply growing each and every year. By 1984 Amateur Talent Contests led to a Center Stage performance by six finalists.

The 80's also brought a change in the approach to obtaining queen contestants. Each town from the county would select a representative as opposed to an open entry format. Prices also rose up to $3.00 for admission and $7.50 for a season pass.

Construction and renovation continued as an Antique Building went up in 1989, and the front entrance, or "castle", was built in 1992.

The last five years, on the other hand, may have seen more growth than any others. In those years the fair added: a sixth day to the fair, trolleys, Monster Truck Demonstrations, an appearance from the Budweiser Clydesdales, a circus, petting zoo, the "fair pig" mascot and a total of seven more acres worth of land.

The theme for the past 75 years of the Lake County Fair has been growth. Always testing itself by adding new shows, categories, prizes and grounds, everyone behind the scenes has been determined to make the Lake County Fair nothing short of a must for all Lake County residents. With attendance eclipsing 200,000 for the six days, it is obvious that the admittance has been growing as well. As Lake County keeps expanding, the fair follows that same lead and is sure to continue pleasing thousands of people each and every year as it has done in the past.—By Brian Janosh

Meet the first Lake County Fair Queen

At every Miss America and beauty pageant the contestants vow to make the world a better place and lend a helping hand to their community. These promises are usually kept while under the public eye during their term, but it takes someone special to carry that vow over into the rest of their life. That is exactly the approach Joanne Boehm has taken since being crowned the very first Lake County Fair Queen.

In a less commercialized society of 1956, the Fair Queen didn't hassle with state competitions or never ending obligations, but rather make one more glorious appearance. Once the crown was passed, the ride was over for Boehm, but her life was just beginning.

Since etching her name in the history books as Lake County's first Fair Queen, Boehm has gone on to lend a helping hand to the community while raising a family of her own. The six children of her own were apparently not enough for Boehm, as she decided to become a first grade teacher in her home town of Libertyville. She continued to work with children after leaving her teaching job, by volunteering in catholic schools around the community.

It was from this point on that Boehm started taking some initiative both in the community and in her own life. She became the CEO of the David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville, helping to form one of Lake County's magnificent recreational centers. In typical fashion, however, Boehm decided to move on and start up a business of her own. She created her own company called Balloon Productions, in which she works right out of her own home and does all sorts of balloon decor.

As for her present day involvement with the Lake County Fair, it is pretty much left to the history books. Boehm, however, does make sure to congratulate the new queen each year if she is from the Libertyville-Mundelein area. As she sends her well wishes to the new queen, Lake County could only hope that the new queen could have the same impact on Lake County that Joanne Boehm has. —By Brian Janosh

2003 Lake County Fair Highlights

miss!

You may want to be there...

- For the Opening Flag Raising Ceremony. This is the official kick-off of the Fair and might provide an opportunity to speak with a member of the Board of Directors. Tuesday, July 22nd at 11 a.m. near Center Stage

- During the 2003 Miss Lake County Fair Pageant. This is the first of three pageants to take place at the Fair. Watch as young women from surrounding towns and villages compete for the crown. Contest includes formal wear, "Best Dress/Sunday Suit" and swimsuit competitions. Contestants are judged based on personal interview, stage presence, communication skills and beauty of face/physical condition. You may get a chance to speak with some of the girls or Pageant Director, Alyce Brownlee. Tuesday, July 22nd at 7 p.m. on the Main Stage. (Junior and Little Miss Lake County Fair pageants to take place at same time and place on Wednesday, July 23rd and Thursday, July 24th respectively.)

- During the 2003 Talent Contests. Bagpipers Hunter Beesch and Mathew Karner, last year's winners of the Senior Division, went to Springfield in January of 2003 where they won the State Talent Competition. Check out what hidden talent may be unveiled at this year's competitions. Friday, July 25th at 7:30 p.m. on the Main Stage - Jr. Division Saturday, July 26th at 7:30 p.m. on the Main Stage - Sr. Division Sunday, July 27th at 2:00 p.m. on the Main Stage - Adult Division

- At the Sale of Livestock Champions. Watch

Lake County's youth show their steer, swine and sheep as local businesses bid on the animals. The Sale of Champions is especially interesting to watch because the prices can go quite high. If you have never seen a livestock auction, be sure to catch this event.

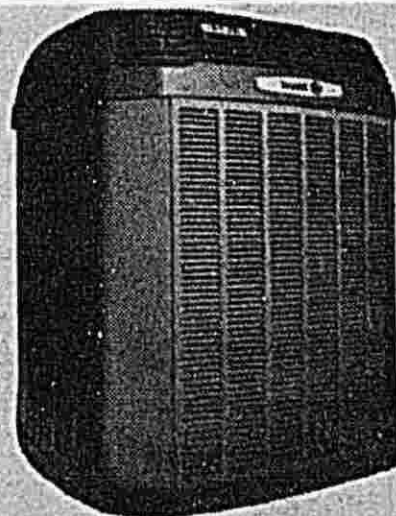

- For the Grandstand Events. Action-packed events like the Demolition Derby, Pro Motocross Races, Professional Contest Rodeo, Monster Truck Demonstrations and Truck and Tractor Pulls exude energy and provide excellent photo opportunities.

Safety Message For Parents: ATVs are not toys. Serious injury or death can result from improper use of ATVs. Your youngster's safety will depend on you taking a "Safety First" approach to ATV riding. The Suzuki LT-A50 may be used only by those aged 6 and older. As a responsible adult, you must always supervise riders under the age of 16 and let your youngster ride only as long as he or she is riding the ATV safely. Even though your child may be the right age, you need to be sure that he or she has the size, strength, skills, and judgment to operate the LT-A50 safely. The SVIA publication "Parents, Youngsters & ATVs" (included with the LT-A50 and available through your dealer) contains guidelines that can help you determine if your child is ready to ride an ATV. Suzuki highly recommends that all ATV riders take a training course. We'll even pay for it. For safety and training course information, see your dealer or call the SVIA at 1-800-852-5344. ATVs can be hazardous to operate. For your safety, always wear a helmet, eye protection and protective clothing. Always avoid paved surfaces. Never ride on public roads. Never carry passengers or engage in stunt riding. Riding and alcohol or other drugs don't mix. Avoid excessive speeds. Be extra careful on difficult terrain. Other Suzuki ATVs have higher minimum age ratings: The LT80 may be used only by adult-supervised riders aged 12 and older; all other Suzuki ATVs may be used only by those aged 16 and older. Suzuki engineered the LT-2400 for experienced riders.

Clinton Grinnell grew up in Libertyville and attended the fair as a child like many of Lake County's children did at that time. Little did Grinnell know at the time, that very fair that he was attending would eventually become a staple in his summer for years to come.

Once Grinnell was done with his schooling, and a two year stint in the Army, he decided to join the Libertyville Police. After 16 years on the job, Grinnell became the Chief of Police for Libertyville and stayed in that position for another 12 years.

showing livestock at a young age and the family's fair participation only flourished.

Clinton Grinnell today.

After his 28 years with Libertyville's police squad, Grinnell moved up to become the Lake County Sheriff and began working security at the fair. He would spend 14 years working as a Lake County Sheriff before stepping down from the force for good. One thing that Grinnell did not part ways with, however, was the Lake County Fair.

During the 1970's Grinnell focused more time towards the fair as a member of the Fair Board. Grinnell's nearly 40 years worth of experience with the fair made him a virtual lock for a position within the Fair's board. Eventually Grinnell thought it to be best to step away from it all and enjoy life for a while. Grinnell now spends his days with his wife in their quaint farm home in Mundelein, enjoying the simple pleasures in life. After 40 years of hard work with the law and the Lake County Fair, the least that Grinnell deserves is a little time for relaxation, and that is exactly what he's got. — By Brian Janosh

As for his involvement with the fair, well, it actually began as his children's involvement and moved on from there. Grinnell's children started

- Everyone is always laughing when Moo Mania is around! Check out Farmer Earl and his puppet friends as he teaches you about the funny side of farming.

- Perry's Exotic Petting Zoo provides children the opportunity to pet and feed different kinds of animals. They can also learn a thing or two at one of the live animal education shows. Pony and camel rides are available for a small fee.

- Walk through the Agricultural Education Building to learn about farming in Lake County and how it affects each and every one of us. Kids can make rope, plant crops, milk a "chocolate cow" and find out what its like to be a real farmer!

- The antique tractor display is a favorite among children and adults alike! Be sure to stop by and take a look.

Live Music at the Lake County Fair

The Lake County Fair is more than just great food and rides - fairgoers should be on the lookout for new musical entertainment this year.

The New Invaders will be making their first appearance at the Lake County Fair in 2003. This 1960's beat band covers the entire British Invasion in music from 1964 - 1969. They perform popular songs from bands like Cream, The Kinks, The Doors and, of course, The Beatles. To add a touch of nostalgia, the band wears appropriate 1960's costumes throughout the entire performance.

The New Invaders have performed at a wide variety of venues including Great America, Navy Pier, US Cellular Field and many music clubs in Illinois. They have quite a hectic schedule this summer and we are excited to have them at the Fair this year.

Date: Tuesday, July 22 & Wednesday, July 23

Time: 8:00 p.m. both nights

Place: Center Stage

The Daddy O's are also new to our entertainment line-up this year. This four-piece 1950's And 1960's cover band brings you all the way back to when rock and roll was new. Their energetic performances are sure to keep you dancin' all weekend long

Date: Thursday, July 24, Friday, July 25 & Saturday, July 26

Time: 8:00 p.m. all three nights

Place: Center Stage

Anyone who attended the Fair last year is sure to remember One Lane Bridge. They will be returning to Center Stage every evening at 5:30 p.m. for an hour-long set of country music.

The 2003 Lake County Fair music line-up is sure to be a crowd pleaser - a little from the past, a little from the present and something for everyone!

The name Jack Bowes is synonymous with Mundelein, but just the name Bowes is synonymous with the Lake County Fair. As the owner of Emil's and Crossroads restaurants in Mundelein, much of Bowes' time is spent dealing with the restaurant business. As for the rest of his family, their daily business is a bit more old fashioned. Son and daughter, Jack and Brooke, ages 15 and 13, spend about two to three hours out of each day tending to their animals.

Brooke Bowes, 13 with Bosco

The family has been heavily involved in the 4-H program, as the oldest son, Brian, started when he was just nine, and the younger siblings have followed the same path.

"You have to be eight years old to join 4-H, Brian was nine when he started, so the family as a whole has been involved for about 11 years now," said mother, and 4-H leader, Cheryl Bowes.

Part of the 4-H program involves showing livestock at the annual Lake County Fair. To a family with all the experience that the Bowes family has, July becomes a very time consuming month.

"In April we start rinsing the animals everyday, and we try to keep them cool so they don't shed. Come about July, we start clipping their hair a certain way so by the time the fair comes around the look their best," said Cheryl.

At ages 15 (Jack) and 13 (Brooke), the Bowes children are beginning to become interdependent when it comes to tending to the animals.

Both Jack and Brooke have their own steer that they show at the fair, along with two pigs for Jack, and one pig and two horses for Brooke. This July Jack will also be participating in 4-H's visual arts showcase as well.

In a summer full of routine for the Bowes family, the Lake County Fair has become just that...routine. This summer is sure to be no different, as the county will be sure to find the Bowes family around the fair this year and many years to come.

Volunteer opportunities for 2003 Lake County Fair

The Lake County Fair Association is looking for volunteers to lend a helping-hand at the 2003 Lake County Fair 75th Anniversary Celebration. Volunteering is a great way to meet new people, become involved in the community and to enjoy one of Lake County's celebrated summer events! Positions are available for the Information Booth, Souvenir Booth, Fair Office and Exhibit Buildings. Shifts are typically 4 hours and are available from 10:00 a.m. - 11:00 p.m. Tuesday, July 2 through Sunday, July 27th volunteers receive free admission to the Fair and $5.00 in meal tickets for the day(s) worked and a complementary Fair Volunteer T-Shirt. Volunteers must be 16 years of age or older. The volunteer program is very flexible and can accommodate all types of schedules.

The Association welcome those who can help all week as well as those who may only have a few hours to spare. Interested? Contact the Fair Office at (847) 223-2204 or visit online at www.lakecountfairassoc.com for more information.

Each Office Independently Owned and Operated.
